An EXERCISE, containing a DIALOGUE, and two ODES, performed at the public COMMENCEMENT in the COLLEGE of Philadelphia, May 20, 1766. Written, chiefly, by one of the Candidates, THOMAS HOPKINSON, B. A.

THIS done, Bright SCIENCE, now, with roseate Hand
Hath cull'd her Flowrets, and with Honours due
Enwreath'd the Brows of her distinguish'd Sons.
Now, my Lorenzo! now my Bosom glows
With Joy enraptur'd, never felt before!
Such Joy I trust as swells thy generous Breast,
And dimples on thy Cheek. Look round, my Friend!
For lo! the young-ey'd Spring, profusely kind,
To add new Honours to this festal Day,
Pours all her Treasures. O'er yon verdur'd Plains,
I see the Goddess walk. The lowing Hills
And whispering Groves join Concert, while she leads,
In rural Pomp, the rosy-footed May.

Why should the Charms of Spring alone engage
My Damon's Heart? Say, what are all the Joys
Which vernal Suns, and vernal Scenes inspire,
Where sacred Freedom, from her native Skies,
Deigns not to shed her more enliv'ning Rays?
Ask the wild Indian, with the Chains oppress
Of Spanish Slavery, Cruelty and Death-----
Can his Heart feel that Happiness replete,
That Glow of Transport, and that general Joy
Which e'en the World of Brutes confess, while round
Creation blooms? What tho' his Forests wave
Umbrageous to the Gale, and Nature walks
In loose Luxuriance o'er his native Plains;
Those Forests wave, those Plains delight no more;
To him all nature languishes----The Streams
And broad Savannahs all their Beauty lose,
And Orellana sullen rolls his Tide.
But when display'd bright Liberty looks forth,
His Spirits mount, his Heart exulting leaps,
New Edens blossom, new Elysiums rise,
And Beauty triumphs o'er th' illumin'd Scene.

D A M O N.

If such the Theme that wakes Lorenzo's Soul,
And kindles all the Patriot in his Breast,
Our Strains shall now congenial, and each Tongue
Shall hail sweet Freedom, from the dreary Cell,
Where late she breath'd her solitary Plaint,
Returning * brighter than the Orb of Day,
When o'er the Mountain-Top, he first uplifts
His beamy Head, to chace the Shades of Night,

D U E T.

FREEDOM, sweet celestial Guide!
Here be fix'd thy endless Reign;
TRUTH and JUSTICE by thy Side,
Golden COMMERCE in thy Train!

H

Empires own thy gentle Sway,
They, without thee drooping mourn;
Brighter than the orient Day,
LIBERTY! is thy Return.

L O R E N Z O.

Hail Heaven-descended, sacred Liberty!
How blest the Land where thou shalt deign to dwell,
No Villain there can o'er a Subject's Neck,
In Insolence of Triumph shake the Reins
Of Slavery, or drive the mad'ning Wheels
Of dire Oppression o'er the bleeding Breast
With bold Defiance----But a gracious GEORGE
Shall reign the Friend of Justice, and of Man,
His placid Brow no Terror sheds around,
No Vengeance nerves his Royal Arm to strike
The Blow, and triumph o'er a prostrate Land,
Mercy in Him her mildest Beams unites
To claim a People's Love. And tho', between,
The broad Atlantic rolls its azure Wave,
Our Tongues shall still confess the gen'rous Hand,
That gives us Peace, and fosters Liberty.

D A M O N.

Nor be the godlike Patriot-Band unsung,
Who prop a Patriot's Throne. First in the Roll,
Illustrious PITT, shall stand thy sacred Name,
Rever'd to latest Times; in whom combin'd
The Sage, the Statesman and the Hero burn,
Say, my Lorenzo! does thy Bosom glow
For public Virtue, Dignity of Soul,
A Cato's Firmness, and a Tully's Zeal,
And every Worth that grac'd the ROMAN Sires?
In PITT, behold them all collected shine;
While, mid the BRITISH Senate, unappall'd,
With all the PATRIOT flashing in his Eye,
The Cause of sinking LIBERTY he pleads---
Lo! Thousands listen round, and inly-shook,
Bend at the awful Thunder of his Voice,
As bend the Forest-Oaks beneath the Storm.

Illustrious was the Scene----I feel it here----
Yet other Worthies crowd before my Eyes,
And other PATRIOTS claim the grateful Lay---
A ROCKINGHAM and GRAFTON, noble Pair!
And SHELBURNE glowing with Com-patriot Zeal!
A CAMBDEN, Guardian of BRITANNIA's Laws,
And CONWAY, zealous for the public Weal,
A MINISTER---and yet the People's Friend!
Thee HOWARD too, whom ROMAN VIRTUE fires----
Illustrious Veteran! shall our Page enrol.
How godlike was the Sight! to see that Arm,
(From which thy Country's Foes have often fled)
Uprais'd in Freedom's Cause; and from thy Tongue
To hear the sudden Flow of Eloquence
Burst artless forth---while down thy aged Cheek,
Adorn'd with many a Scar, the tender Tear
Spontaneous flow'd amid the wond'ring Throng!
Nor let our BARRE's Worth be lost to Fame,
Who deign'd to grace ‡ these humble Walls,
And listen partial to our Infant Strains;
Who joy'd to see the Seeds of Sacred Truth
And Freedom, planted in a distant Land;
Nor yet forgets our Cause--------

D A M O N.

Enough, my Friend!
Tho' num'rous Senators remain unsung,
And thousand Worthies in the splendid List
Of Britain's Merchants, and of Britain's Sons,
Their Names shall grace th' eternal Roll of Fame,
"When Time shall fail, and Nature sink in Years."

A I R.

TIME! ¶ thy Wheels shall cease to move,
Nature in one Ruin end!
But th' Archangel from above,
Shall in heav'nly Pomp descend;
And from the Wreck, the Roll of Fame
Shall snatch, and save each PATRIOT-Name!

* At the Moment of writing this, the most joyful News of the Repeal of the American Stamp-Act arrived at Philadelphia,

‡ Col. Barre, while in America, was pleased to be present at several of the Exercises in this College, when some of the Gentlemen, who received their Degrees on the present Occasion, were very young, and making their first Appearance as Speakers.

¶ The Sentiment in this Air is founded on a fine Passage in Mason's Caractacus.

ANNAPOLIS, May 22.

Mr. JONAS GREEN,

SIR,

YOUR inserting the following in your next Gazette, will much oblige many of your Well-Wishers, particularly

Your most obedient humble Servant,
HENRY STEVENSON.

Baltimore-Town, May 9, 1766.

THE Inhabitants of Baltimore-Town, and County, desire to inform the neighbouring Counties, that they have raised by Subscription upwards of Four Hundred Pounds in Three Days, and doubt not of collecting a sufficient Sum in a short Time, towards purchasing a genteel STATUE, to be erected in Baltimore-Town, in Honour of the glorious and truly patriotic WILLIAM PITT, Esq; as an Acknowledgment for the innumerable Services (not only) done to this Province, and Continent, but to the Lovers of Liberty in general."

BOSTON, May 22.

Account of the Rejoicings last Monday, on the Repeal of the STAMP-ACT, as promised in our last.

At One o'Clock the Castle and Batteries, and Train of Artillery fired a Royal Salute; and the Afternoon was spent in Mirth and Jollity----In the Evening the whole Town was beautifully illuminated:----On the Common the Sons of Liberty erected a magnificent Pyramid, illuminated with 280 Lamps: The four upper Stories of which were ornamented with the Figures of their Majesties, and fourteen of the worthy Patriots who have distinguished themselves by their Love of Liberty.

On the Top of the Pyramid was fixed a round Box of Fireworks horizontally. About One Hundred Yards from the Pyramid the Sons of Liberty erected a Stage, for the Exhibition of their Fireworks, near the Work-House, in the lower Room of which they entertained the Gentlemen of the Town. John Hancock, Esq; who gave a grand and elegant Entertainment to the genteel Part of the Town, and treated the Populace with a Pipe of Madeira Wine, erected at the Front of his House, which was magnificently illuminated, a Stage for the Exhibition of his Fireworks, which was to answer those of the Sons of Liberty: At Dusk the Scene opened by the Discharge of twelve Rockets from each Stage; after which the Figures on the Pyramid were uncovered, making a beautiful Appearance----To give a Description of the great Variety of Fire-works exhibited from this Time till Eleven o'Clock, would be endless---the Air was filled with Rockets---the Ground with Bee-hives and Serpents---and the two Stages with Wheels of Fireworks, of various Sorts. Mr. Otis, and some other Gentlemen, who lived near the Common, kept open House, the whole Evening, which was very pleasant; the Multitudes of Gentlemen and Ladies, who were continually passing from one Place to another, added much to the Brilliancy of the Night: At Eleven o'clock the Signal being given by a Discharge of 21 Rockets, the horizontal Wheel on the Top of the Pyramid or Obelisk was played off, ending in the Discharge of sixteen Dozen of Serpents in the Air, which concluded the Shew. To the Honour of the Sons of Liberty, we can with Pleasure inform the World, that every thing was conducted with the utmost Decency and good Order, not a Reflection cast on any Character, nor the least Disorder during the whole Scene.

The Honourable His Majesty's Council, at a previous Invitation of the Governor, met at the Province House on Monday Afternoon, where his Majesty's Health, and many other loyal Toasts, were drank; and in the Evening his Excellency, with the Council walked in the Common, to see the Fire-works, Exhibitions, &c. who were well pleased with the Regularity the Inhabitants carried on their Demonstrations of Loyalty and Joy on this happy Occasion.

The Evening following, all the Gentlemen in the Town contributed Lanthorns to illuminate Liberty-Tree, till the Boughs could hold no more, which made a most beautiful and splendid Appearance. And the Sashes of the Houses round were covered with illustrated Figures as large as the Life, the Colours all in a Glow with the Lights behind them, representing the KING, the immortal PITT, CAMBDEN, BARRE, &c. &c. &c. to whom LIBERTY addresses herself in an Inscription.

Hail, PITT! Hail, Patrons! Pride of GEORGE's Days,
How round the Globe expand your Patriot Rays!
And the NEW WORLD is brighten'd with the Blaze.

An elegant Portrait of Mr. PITT, was on Monday Evening fixed up in the Front Window of the Houses of Capt. Dawes, and Mr. Thomas Symmes, Merchant, with the above Inscription.

NEW-YORK, May 29.

Extract of a Letter from Burlington, in New-Jersey, May 27, 1766.

A certain George Darley, of this City, on Friday, the 23d of this Instant, went to Bed well, and never awoke till Tuesday, the 27th, so he slept 4 Nights and 3 Days, and awoke in a perfect State of Health, and said he was neither hungry nor thirsty.

We hear from Hartford in Connecticut, that on Friday last the following tragical Accident happen'd at that Place. On hearing the joyful News of the Repeal of the Stamp Act, about 3 half Barrels of Powder were provided, and lodged in the lower Room of a Brick School-House in the Town, where, after taking out 16 or 18 Pounds, it was lock'd up, and a Number of Gentlemen and others, assembled in the upper Room, and with the Powder that had been taken out, were preparing Cartridges, Sky Rockets and other Fire Works, intended for the Rejoicings that Evening. While they were thus employ'd, a Negro Boy, seeing some Powder scatter'd on the Ground, scraped some of it together, and set Fire to it. This by some Means or other communicated with the Powder in the Room below, which went off with a terrible Explosion, tore the House to Pieces, scattering Part of it in the Air, and reducing the rest to a Heap of Ruins. The Number of Persons in the upper Room, when the Accident happened, was 22, two of those were supposed to be driven thro' the Windows into the Air, and were thrown a considerable Distance from the House, but are likely to recover---all the rest who were buried in the Ruins of the House, were more bruised and hurt; several had their Bones broken, one both his Legs near the Knees; they all lived to be taken out of the Ruins, but 3 of them expired soon after, several are thought past Recovery, and most of the rest in great Danger: This terrible Accident filled the Town with Consternation, and turned the intended Rejoicings into Lamentation and Mourning.

The same Day, on the same Occasion, an Accident of the like Kind happened at Seabrook, where, by the bursting of a Cannon, a Man had Part of his Scull torn away, and was killed on the Spot. The Week before, 3 Men being together at a House in Suffield, were all killed by Lightning.

GEORGE ADAM WREST. ‡

By the Philadelphia, Captain M'Cutcheon, from Belfast; and the Carolina, Captain Friend, from London, both in short Passages, we have the following Advices, viz.

LISBON, March 15.

IN case of a war with Spain, it is said, that all the Portuguese men of war will be put under the command of an English Admiral.

Amsterdam, March 24. One hundred and thirty four ships will sail this year from the different ports of this Republic, for Greenland, on the Whale-fishery; and twenty-eight more from Hamburgh, Altena, and Bremen.

Paris, April 6. Several English Lords, we hear, have taken Hotels in this city, to pass a few days with an exiled countryman of theirs.

The reports relative to a change in the British Ministry, we unhappily find to be entirely without foundation; so that the Canada Bills must be speedily discharged.

'Tis this moment whispered, that our Ambassador at Vienna has received directions to quit that city in three days.

Westminster, April 11. This day his Majesty came to the House of Peers; and the Commons being come thither, his Majesty was pleased to give his Royal Assent to,

"An Act for raising a certain sum of money, by loans or exchequer bills, for the service of the year one thousand seven hundred and sixty six.

"An Act for repealing the duties granted upon Cyder and Perry, by an Act made in the third year of his present Majesty's reign; and for granting other duties on Cyder and Perry in lieu thereof; and for more effectually securing the duties on Cyder and Perry, imposed by several former Acts."

And to several road, and 17 private bills.

Bristol, April 5. The Society of Merchants in this City have paid their compliments of thanks to his Grace the Duke of Grafton, and the Right Hon. Henry Seymour Conway, Esq; the Marquis of Rockingham, the Right Hon. William Dowdeswell, Esq; the Right Hon. LONDON.

April 3. Some new laws respecting the British Colonies in America, it is said, will be enacted before the breaking up of the present Session of Parliament.

It is said that the Parliament will not rise till the latter end of June.

Yesterday his Excellency the Spanish Ambassador had a conference with Mr. Secretary Conway, on affairs of importance; since which, it is reported, that a late memorial from the Court of Madrid is not so satisfactory as could be wished.

Orders are given for the men of war that are destined to sail for Newfoundland, to carry over an additional complement of men.

We hear the Sum of 1,500,000l. is agreed to be raised, at 3 per Cent. in order to pay off near that Sum of the outstanding Navy Bills, which now carry 4 per Cent.---900,000l. of the said Sum is to be by Annuities, and 600,000l. by Way of Lottery. The Whole to bear Interest from Christmas last; and it is said three great Houses in the City have agreed to advance the Money.

April 5. They write from Gibraltar, that the Spinosa Spanish frigate had just put in there with a Corsair of Sallee, taken after an obstinate engagement of three hours.

By a gentleman arrived this week from Guernsey we are informed, that before his departure the town of Cherburg, on the coast of France, had been declared a free port.

Yesterday her Majesty appeared in court for the first time since her late indisposition, and received the compliments of the nobility on the occasion.

Presents, to the amount of several thousand pounds, for the African Princes at and near Senegal, are sent in the Conway, Capt. Maddocks, which sailed from Gravesend for Senegal on Tuesday last; which ship mounts 20 guns, and is appointed to carry the new governor to different parts of the coast of Africa.

April 7. We are assured Mr. Pitt lately made a noble speech in behalf of the sea-officers out of commission, recommending to the members an increase of their half pay, which, for the honour and safety of our country, ought to be augmented, to keep the most useful body of men from wretchedness, foreign service, and goals.

Mr. Pitt continues very ill of the gout at Hayes, where he is visited by many illustrious persons.

It is said, that a considerable Bounty will soon be granted on the Importation of Iron, and naval Stores, from Canada, and the two Floridas.

It is reported, that some Changes in the Board of Trade and Plantations will soon take place; and that John Huske, Esq; one of the Representatives for the Borough of Malden, will be appointed to a Seat at that honourable Board.

April 8. The Right Hon. Mr. Pitt is at present confined to his bed, at Hayes, by a severe fit of the gout; and it is certain, that as soon as he is able to move, he will retire to Pynsent in Somersetshire.

Their Royal Highnesses the Prince of Wales, and Prince Frederick, are perfectly recovered of the small-pox, and yesterday took an airing.

It is certain that a coolness at present subsists between the courts of Vienna and Paris.

We have it from undoubted authority, that an attempt has lately been made to assassinate General de Paoli. This dark enterprize was to have been effected by a Genoese officer. He has however been discovered, and cut to pieces by the Corsican militia, who came up with him in the woods, to which he had retreated.

They write from Hamburgh, that his Prussian Majesty has established within these few months, twenty-three silk and cotton manufactories in the New Marche of Brandenburgh.

They write from Port Glasgow, that twenty-seven decked vessels are fitting out there for the cod fishery this summer on the great western bank of St. Kilda, which are to carry out stages, for their being cured on the Island.

They write from Gibraltar, that since the late storm, the mountain is found to be impregnated with mineral ores, part of which had been washed down by the force of the torrent from above.

We cannot help congratulating our country on the consummate modesty of the French Academy, in proposing, as the subject for the prize of a gold medal, "The advantages of peace, and the horrors of war." It is presumed, if they would themselves study to be quiet, and abate something of their boundless thirst after universal empire, more would be done towards preserving a general tranquility, than all which they, or any nation upon earth, can write, or say, upon the subject.

Some heavy grievances, which have been long complained of, it is said, are now under consideration.

Yesterday their Royal Highnesses the Prince of Wales, and Bishop of Osnabrug, took an airing in Hyde Park for the first time since their inoculation, which was performed the 18th of February. Altho' they had both a considerable number of small pox, particularly the Bishop of Osnabrug, yet there is hardly the remains of pitting on either.

Catherine Ogilvie, who was convicted at Edinburgh of Incest and poisoning her Husband, but her Sentence respited on Account of her Pregnancy, and who, about three Weeks ago, was delivered of a Child in Prison, and was to have received Sentence of Death on Monday the 17th ult. made her Escape out of Prison on Saturday the 15th ult. about Seven o'Clock in the Evening; her Escape was not discovered or made known to the Magistrates until the next Day, between One and Two in the Afternoon, when a Search was immediately made through the City, and a Messenger dispatched to endeavour to trace, and, if possible, overtake her on the London Road; but all the Intelligence he could receive was, that a young Gentleman, very thin and sickly, muffled up in a great Coat, and attended by a Servant, had passed through Haddington on Saturday at Midnight, and had passed on, with four Horses, Day and Night, from Stage to Stage, towards London. His Majesty has offered one hundred Guineas for apprehending her, and the Magistrates of Edinburgh have also offered 100 Guineas Reward for apprehending her.

Letters from Newcastle, dated March 22, mention, that Mrs. Ogilvie passed through Alnwich on Sunday se'nnight at Noon, and soon after through Newcastle, where she stopped to exchange Horses, when only an elderly Man was seen with her; she was dressed like an Officer, in Blue and Gold, with a slouched Hat and Cockade.

We hear that the Sheathing of Ships Bottoms with Cedar Plank, having lately been found very beneficial in preserving them from being honey-combed, especially in the West-Indies, all Ships of War ordered on that Station, will be sheathed for the future in that Manner; which, it is thought, will be a great Saving to the Navy.

By Information received from Dover, it is almost certain, that Mrs. Ogilvie was at the Ship Tavern in that Town on Wednesday the 18th ult. in Company with an elderly shabby Man: They went thither from Canterbury the same Morning, and tried to get a Vessel for France, which could not go, the Wind blowing hard. They returned therefore to Canterbury in the Afternoon with an Intent, as it is imagined, to wait about the Country for an Opportunity to get over. Mrs. Ogilvie was in Man's Apparel, and passed by the Name of Capt. Campbell. It has been since reported, that she was seen last Monday Night at Calais, by a Schoolfellow of her Husband's. She was dressed in green, trimmed with Gold, and a blue Feather in her Hat.

They write from Genoa, that the Occasion of the Miscarriage of the Corsicans in their late Attempt upon St. Bonifacio, was owing to one of their Vessels running aground, which alarming the Garrison, gave them Time to put themselves upon their Guard, and thus obliged the Assailants to sheer off.

Mrs. Ogilvie was at Dover last Wednesday se'nnight, and not having an Opportunity to get off for France directly, she returned for London, took a Hackney Coach, drove to Billingsgate, with a Gentleman to accompany her, agreed with a Tilt-boat to take them over to France for eight Guineas, and a Guinea a Day for waiting for them four Days, in order to bring them back; but the Tilt-Boat is returned back to Billingsgate without them.

April 14. This Day Admiral Durell will set out for Portsmouth, to proceed with the Ships of War appointed to relieve Lord Colville at Halifax in Nova-Scotia.

Saturday Morning Dispatches were sent off to go in the New-York Packet for Sir Henry Moore, Governor of that Province.

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, April 6.

"The transports are come to Spithead, that are to take in Lord Frederick Cavendish's regiment for North-America."

There will be upwards of two thousand Seamen employed this summer, on board the ships of war and cutters destined for the station of Newfoundland.

It is said a noble Earl, pretty far advanced in years, and who at present enjoys a high post in the Administration, has lately had an apoplectic fit.

The eldest son of a noble Earl attempted to shoot himself yesterday morning, on being refused a permission to marry his mother's maid.

By the last dispatches from Lord Rochfort, we learn, that procrastination on the part of Spain is still to be expected, concerning the adjustment of the Manilla ransom.

We are assured that his Excellency General Murray is still to continue in the Government of Canada.

It is said some considerable Alterations will shortly take place in the administration.

The Right hon. Earl Temple, and Mr. Pitt, are said now to be reconciled.

Mr. Pitt is so well recovered as to attend the House of Commons.

We hear that there has lately been a very great change in the ministry at Versailles.

April 17. Saturday his Highness the Prince of Brunswick embarked at Dover, for Calais.

According to Letters from Paris, Orders have been given to the Commanders of the several Men of War, appointed to superintend the French Fishery at Newfoundland, to adhere strictly to the Treaty, by neither encouraging clandestine Trade, nor appearing at any Time to the Westward of the Boundaries prescribed therein, or in the Gulph of St. Laurence.

We hear from Portsmouth, that several Presents, intended to be distributed among the Indian Chiefs on the Coast of Labrador, have been shipped on board the Transports outward-bound for Newfoundland.

The Plan that has been for some time in agitation, for establishing of a free Port in the North-American Colonies, meets with great opposition, and it is now said the same will not be carried into execution.

It is said our trade to Portugal will very soon be restored to all the advantages enjoyed in that kingdom under any former reigns.

April 18. Letters from Toulon, dated March 22, advise, that the officers who are to command the nine ships fitting out there, are all appointed; and that its destination is only to make observations at the different ports, roads and anchorages, of the coast of Barbary.

Sunday morning last, a North-American Indian, a convert to the Christian Religion, preached a sermon, at the Rev. Dr. Chandler's meeting in the Old Jury, to a very numerous and polite audience, who, in general, expressed the utmost satisfaction at the appearance of genuine piety, simplicity of heart, and integrity of disposition, which were manifest in this very extraordinary preacher.

Several wagers are laid at the West end of the town, that there will not be a change in the ministry before the next General election.

A celebrated Commoner is said to have lately asked a noble Lord, in the highest office of business, whether his Lordship intended to continue in that post, to which the Peer answered in the affirmative; the Commoner said no more, from which the people make various conjectures.

As the present administration have not, nor will, do any thing for Mr. Wilkes, it is said that he begins to think seriously of returning home.

We hear that orders will soon be issued for sending for the Stamp Paper back from America.

They write from Vienna, that though the camp, which was to have been formed, this spring, near Kolin, in Bohemia, is not to take place, yet there are to be three others in August next, viz. one near Iglau, a second in the environs of Olmutz, and a third in the neighbourhood of Vienna.

They write from Berlin, that an order has been issued there for repairing, without loss of time, the fortifications of Colberg and Custrin, which suffered greatly during the last war.

We hear that on the arrival of Admiral Pallisser at Newfoundland, a number of Acadians, who settled last summer at Miquelon, will be obliged to depart the Place; the island not being designed for a settlement, but only a temporary resort for the French to cure their fish. Such of them, however, as may chuse to take the oaths to his Majesty, will have liberty to retire with their effects to St. John's.

It is said that some small ships of war will soon set sail to join Commodore Harrison; by whom they are to be employed as a squadron of observation, to watch the motions of the Spaniards in the Mediterranean.

The Hon. House of Commons was very full this day, an important affair being expected to be taken into consideration.

We hear, that the present Ministry are determined to take off the duties of Soap, Leather, Candles, Salt, and Porter, and to levy the amount of them by taxes less burthensome to their manufactories and poor.

BOSTON, May 26.

By a Gentleman from London we learn, That a Motion had been made in the House of Commons, among other new Regulations, to open a free Port, and Dominico was proposed, but the great Commoner opposing it, it was imagined it would not be got through.---The Duty on Melasses, it was confidently said, would be reduced to one Penny per Gallon.---That the Difficulties attending the Spanish and Portugal Trade were like to be removed; and that Liberty would be given to import Corn (duty free) from the Colonies.

A Packet for New-York sailed from Falmouth, in Company with Capt. Chadwell.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.

On Saturday last the Honourable JOHN PENN, Esq; our GOVERNOR, was married to Miss ANN ALLEN, eldest Daughter of the Honourable WILLIAM ALLEN, Esq; Chief Justice of this Province---a young Lady adorned with every Accomplishment requisite to render the married State happy.

On Monday last the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province met here.

A MESSAGE from the GOVERNOR to the ASSEMBLY.

GENTLEMEN,

HAVING just received from the Right Honourable Mr. Secretary Conway, the Copy of a Law lately passed for repealing an Act, made last Year by the British Parliament, for granting certain Stamp Duties in America, I am pleased to have so early an Opportunity, as your present Meeting affords, of congratulating you on an Event so truly joyful, and which I hope will be productive of the most happy Consequences to this and all the other Colonies.

By the Secretary of State's Letter, which I have ordered to be laid before the House, you will likewise have the Satisfaction to find, that besides the Repeal of the Stamp Act, our Gracious Sovereign, and his Parliament, are still extending their Goodness farther, and propose to give every Relief to the Trade of America, which our Situation and Circumstances require.

Distinguished by such signal Instances of paternal Regard from His Majesty, and such Indulgence from His Parliament, I need not mention to you, Gentlemen, the Conduct you ought to pursue: I know your own Hearts will lead you, in Return, to every Act of Duty, and Expression of Gratitude, which a loyal People can manifest on so happy an Occasion.

I am further to acquaint you, that I took the earliest Opportunity to do that Justice to the good People of this Province, which their Conduct merited, by representing to the King's Ministers the Moderation and Decency with which they have behaved, under the Dissatisfaction and Uneasiness universally prevailing in America, on Account of the Stamp Act: In Answer to which, I have now the Honour of His Majesty's Commands to assure you, Gentlemen, "of His Royal Approbation of the "wise and prudent, as well as dutiful, Behaviour, which the "Province of Pennsylvania has held amidst the too prevailing "Distractions, which so generally agitated the Colonies."

The late Resolutions of the House of Commons, mentioned in Mr. Conway's Letter, I have, agreeable to His Majesty's express Injunction, now ordered to be laid before you.

June 3, 1766. JOHN PENN.

The ASSEMBLY's ANSWER.

May it please your HONOUR,

WE have taken into our Consideration your Honour's obliging Message of this Day, accompanied with Mr. Secretary Conway's Letter of the Thirty-first of March; the Copy of a Law lately passed for repealing the Stamp-Act; and the late Resolutions of the House of Commons.

We return your Honour our hearty Thanks for your Congratulations on the happy Issue of this important Affair. And it gives us the highest Satisfaction to observe, that His Majesty entertains the most favourable Sentiments of the "prudent, as "well as dutiful, Behaviour, which the Province of Pennsylva-"nia has held, amidst the too prevailing Distractions, which so "generally agitated the other Colonies," and of your Conduct on this Occasion.

We shall, with the greatest Chearfulness and Pleasure, express the warmest Sense of Gratitude and Duty to His most Gracious Majesty, and His Parliament, for their Wisdom, Justice, and Condescension, manifested to us, by the Repeal of the Stamp-Act, and for their further benevolent Disposition to give every Relief to the Trade of America, which our Situation and Circumstances require.

Permit us also to return your Honour our Thanks, for "the "early Opportunity you took to do that Justice to the good Peo-"ple of this Province, which their Conduct merited, by repre-"senting to the King's Ministers the Moderation and Decency "with which they have behaved, under the Dissatisfaction and "Uneasiness universally prevailing in America."

Pleased as we are with the present Opportunity of testifying our Joy and Felicity upon so happy an Event, give us Leave to congratulate your Honour upon your Marriage, and to offer you our sincerest Wishes for your future Happiness.

Signed, by Order of the House,

June 3, 1766. JOSEPH FOX, Speaker.

JOHN NIXON, and Co.

THE Subſcriber having been appointed Profeſſor of the French and Spaniſh Languages in the College of this City, begs Leave to inform the Public, that he purpoſes to teach ſuch young Ladies and Gentlemen, who are deſirous of being taught thoſe polite and uſeful Languages, not only to read them with Propriety, but to write them grammatically, and ſpeak them with the utmoſt Purity and Elegance, as his long Reſidence amongſt thoſe Nations has procured him a perfect and critical Knowledge of their Pronounciation, which is ſo neceſſary to ſuch Perſons as are deſirous of converſing in thoſe Languages with Facility and Pleaſure. For this Purpoſe he has provided a convenient Room to teach young Ladies in the Morning, and young Gentlemen in the Afternoon. Further Particulars may be known of him, by enquiring at the Widow Rice's, in Arch-ſtreet, between Front and Second-ſtreets.

To ſuch Gentlemen, who are deſirous of being acquainted with the Nature of the Trade, and the Methods of carrying it on by the Engliſh from this Continent, with the French and Spaniards in their Settlements, in the Weſt-Indies, and Gulph of Mexico, he ſhall give ſome very neceſſary practical Lectures, chiefly drawn from his own Obſervations and Experience.

PAUL FOOKS.

N. B. It is preſumed that any Eulogium upon the Utility, and genteel Acquirement of the French and Spaniſh Languages, in ſo polite and commercial a City as Philadelphia, already diſtinguiſhed for their Taſte and Knowledge of the Belles Lettres, would be altogether ſuperfluous in an Advertiſement. Nevertheleſs, as there are many Perſons who may be deſirous of knowing the particular Advantages of underſtanding thoſe Languages in America, with a View to Trade, &c. The Subſcriber purpoſes ſhortly to ſubmit ſome general Obſervations on theſe to the Public in this Paper.

PHILADELPHIA: Printed by DAVID HALL, and WILLIAM SELLERS, at the NEW PRINTING-OFFICE, near the Market.

SUPPLEMENT to the PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE. No. 1954.

Philadelphia, June 2, 1766.

Mr. GARRIGUES, SIR,

THE Injury which I received from you, which I complained of, first in a Letter to yourself, and afterwards to the Public, is this, viz. That you have falsly and maliciously published and asserted, that I took up a stray Horse, and endeavoured to conceal him from the proper Owner; and that when I did advertise him, I put the Advertisements on the Tops of Trees, to the Intent that no One should read them; and that when I advertised the said Horse, in the public Prints, 'twas by a false Colour.-----The Crime here charged on me, is a very great one; to conceal Goods or Effate found, is of the same Nature as stealing them; and consequently your asserting publickly, that I was guilty of such a Crime, was a great Injury to me, if I was really innocent. I expected, therefore, when you took upon yourself to reply to my public Complaint, either that you would have made me Reparation for the Injury you had done me; or else that you would have endeavoured to make it appear, that you had not done me any Injury at all; but you do neither to my Satisfaction, and therefore you do stand justly and publickly charged with falsly and maliciously declaring me guilty of a very heinous Crime, to the Ruin of my Reputation, though I am at the same Time wholly innocent. For which Offence of yours, and Wrong to me, your own Heart, as well as all Mankind, ought to condemn and abhor you; for to rob me of my Peace and Reputation, and entail Infamy on my Name, is a greater Injury to me, and therefore a higher Crime, than to rob my House, and more justly deserves the Abhorrence of every honest Man.

I will here attend to your Reply, and candidly examine, whether you do clear yourself of the Crime I publickly lay to your Charge, viz. That of falsly asserting I am guilty of a great Crime, of which I am really innocent. You do not indeed directly either confess or deny the Crime I charge on you, but say, "you mentioned some Part only of what you had heard, as will appear by the Affirmation" (of Richards) by which I suppose you would be understood to mean, that you did declare and publish what is contained in the Deposition of Richards; yet notwithstanding all the Ill-nature discovered in that Deposition, and the Disingenuity of its being taken ex Parte, without my Knowledge, and proceeding from a Man, who confesses himself irritated into an Act of Justice to Phipps, from a Principle of Revenge against M'Pherson; I say, notwithstanding all these Circumstances, which I think may be presumed to operate strongly against me, your Deponent really affirms no more than these two Things to your Purpose, viz. That the Advertisement at the Robin Hood was fixed at an uncommon Height, and could not be read without climbing up. Climbing up the Sign-Post, one would think, was intended here, but I suppose the Deponent meant climbing up a Horse-Block, which stood close by the Sign-Post; on which I beg Leave to remark, that the uncommon Singularity of the Heighth, with the easy Ascent by the Steps of the Horse-Block, would naturally induce more People to read it, than if nothing singular had attended it; though, after all this, 'tis a Fact well known, that Numbers have read it standing on the Ground, without any climbing up at all. The second Thing deposed against me by Richards is, that the Horse was not so described in the Advertisement, that he could or did suspect him to be Phipps's Horse. On which I observe it appears by the Deposition, that the Deponent had never seen the Horse, when he read the Advertisement at the Robin Hood; for that Advertisement was put up in November, 1765, but he did not see the Horse (as he would make us believe) till the February following, and the Advertisement could not have stood so high, and so exposed to Winds and Weather, Half that Space of Time. Besides it is easily proved, by many Witnesses, that Richards has often declared, he never saw any of my Advertisements about the Horse.-----The Advertisement posted at the Robin Hood, and also on two Trees on the Wissahickon Road (which, by the Way) were not posted higher than usual) were verbatim the same with that soon after published in the News-Papers, a Copy of which I here insert, that every Person, who has seen the Horse, may judge whether he was well described or not.------"Came to the "Plantation of John M'Pherson, near Philadelphia, on the River Schuylkill, on the 22d inst. November, a dark bay Horse, "about 14 Hands high, a small white Spot in his Forehead, "black Feet, Mane, and switch Tail. The Owner is desired "to prove his Property, pay Charges, and take him away, otherwise he will be sold for the same."-----But after all, if you do still dispute the Exactness of my Description, I do adhere to, and repeat my Challenge to you, in my former Paper, if you dare risk the Matter on the Judgment of indifferent judicious Men.

The above-mentioned two Particulars are the whole that I can find in Richards's Deposition to your Purpose, and I think I have treated them fairly, and given them their due Weight. Nor will you yourself say I endeavour to diminish or extenuate the Sense of your Deponent's Testimony; if you say this, pray how much would you make it mean? Do you, can you conceive, it means, that I posted Advertisements on the Tops of Trees, that they might not be read; and that I advertised the Horse by a false Colour? Not such a Word is in the Deposition. Nay, further, you yourself don't seem to think this; for you say, you mention'd a Part only of what you had heard, and then refer to this Deposition, to shew what that Part was. Pray then, how do you answer for the Rest you have said? Here is but a Part, a very inconsiderable Part replied to; how is it then, I say, that you account for the Residue, for those false defamatory Words (that I posted Advertisements on the Tops of Trees, and described the Horse by a false Colour) which you have no Pretence that the Deposition produced by you, slimsey and exceptionable as it is, can, by any reasonable Construction, justify?---Will you deny your speaking those Words? If you can do this, why have you not, in Justice to yourself and me, done it in your publick Reply? This will not do; that you utter'd them publickly, as charged on you, I can prove, by unexceptionable Witnesses, and that I suffer, and must suffer in my Character thereby, in the Opinion of every Body who respects your Character, is too manifest to be disputed, for you have pawn'd your Character to ruin mine. I did every Thing, with regard to the Stray Horse, that either Law or Custom requir'd; I set up Advertisements in more Places, and inserted them in more publick Papers, than either Law or Usage requir'd, without any Increase of Expence to the Owner. I caused him to be rode and shewn in the most publick Places frequently; I gained a legal Property in the Horse, by a lawful and customary Course of Proceeding; yet, on the first rational Conviction of the Claimer's Property, I yielded the Horse to him, demanding but a small Acknowledgment for my Trouble, and that not to myself, but to the Poor of the Hospital; yet all this is not sufficient to protect me from Calumny.

In uttering this Calumny, you are detected, and with the Guilt of it you stand justly charged, and I have a right to challenge you to answer it to me in any Way, that shall be consistent with your Duty to propose, or my Honour to accept. The Crime you have injuriously charged on me, has not only much Wickedness in it, but also a great Degree of the most despicable Meanness;---a most contemptible Degeneracy from all Principles of worthy Action.-----There are some Actions that have indeed Wickedness in them, which yet receive some Abatement of their Infamy and Disgrace, from the strong Temptation of the Agent, his Mistake of the Nature or Tendencies of the Action, from the Corruptions of general Custom, from the Example of Superiors, or other Circumstances, which, tho' they don't take away the Sin, yet lessen the Reproach, and sometimes extenuate the Guilt of them; but I have none of these to urge in my Favour; if your Reproaches are believed, I must bear the whole Weight of that villainous despicable Action, without any thing to lessen the Shame of it, or obviate the World's Censures. But on the other hand, all Circumstances conspire to increase both; and my Children, after I am dead, may be told, that their Father, with all his other Qualities, was capable of being little better than a Horse-stealer. You here see but a faint Description of the Difficulties you have reduced me to, and, I think, your own Honour, Conscience and Humanity (if you have any) must oblige you to do me ample Justice, by making me all the Amends in your Power. 'Tis the Part of a great and generous Soul, to confess a Fault, and repair an Injury; and if you can be great and just enough, both to yourself and to me, to do a generous Action, 'tis a pity you should spoil it, by doing it by Piece-meal. You do, indeed, use some palliating Expressions, that you inadvertently, without any bad Design, or the least Malice, said-----Said what!-----Said that M'Pherson secreted a Stray Horse,---and, in Effect, under Colour of legal Course, stole him.---Surely a Madman only can throw such Firebrands, Arrows and Death, and say he is in Sport, without the least Malice, or bad Design.

From what I have said and exhibited of the Matter, the unprejudiced Part of Mankind, who have duly attended to us both, must be convinced, that what you have uttered of me, as I herein charged upon you, is false, and falsly and maliciously spoken, and in Justice to myself, without the least Malice or bad Design, I do hereby tell you and the Public, that the same is false,---is a Lye,---is a damned Lye; my Servant told you so once before, and my Servant's Master tells you so now; and what is worse than both, your Conscience must witness the same Thing to you in Whispers, which will one Day give you more Uneasiness, than either my Resentments, or the general Censure and Contempt of the Public can do now. I observe you say, "you mentioned a "Part only of what you had heard," &c. with the Word (only) in Italicks, as if it had some emphatical Meaning.---Again, you say my Family Connections prevented your enlarging on this Affair, &c.---I know not what would have been the Contents of your further Enlargement, or the Residue of what you had heard, had you gone on to tell the whole, without stopping short;---concealing Part of a Matter, sometimes renders what is told false; not telling the whole Truth, is sometimes lying, as well as telling more than the Truth; but whatever the Contents of your Concealments may be, I cannot apprehend myself in any Danger from any Thing you can with Justice charge on me; so, if your Stock of Malice and Ill-nature is not yet exhausted, you may, if you please, summon all the Rancour of your malicious Soul, procure all the Assistance of my Enemies, and Men of your own Stamp, and then I defy you, to prove one dishonest Action in my whole Life; but remember Mr. Garrigues, I bar Oaths ex Parte, as a cowardly Way of collecting Evidence.---As to your Compliments on my Family Connections, I claim no Merit, and fear no Shame from Connections of that Kind, nor shall I ascribe your Faults to your Family, nor theirs to you (did I know they had any) detested be the Tongue or Pen that charges the Blemishes of one Person on another; such Charges discover a weak Head, and a bad Heart----You say the Matter was become almost a public Town Talk, &c. why should I doubt it, when I have detected you stopping at a Place (where you had not any other immediate Business) to publish it, and your daily Occupation has given you so great an Advantage for that Purpose.

I will here subjoin a Word of two upon the Waste of Wit, that appears in the scurrilous Part of your Reply, which though it is the greatest Part, yet I think it is not much to the Purpose, and therefore cannot merit any great Attention. As to your Puns on Privateering, I have only to take Notice, that Privateers act under the King's Commission, contribute to the Protection of Trade, and are always allowed to be a national Benefit in Time of War; and if you can find any thing in all this, to exercise a sportive or invidious Wit upon, I do not incline to come near enough to your Sport as to interrupt it, nor shall I retort by punning the Gentlemen of your own Occupation.---You affect to compare me to Hudibras, Don Quixotte, &c. I leave the Public to judge whether there is any Likeness between those Characters and mine; if there is not any, you will be thought somewhat unlucky in your Choice of Comparisons.---Again, you say very seriously, that you do not chuse to be Horse Jockeyed out of your Reputation; and because the Object of Horse-jockeying must be a Horse, I suppose you imagined I was about turning you into a Horse, but your Fears were quite vain and groundless; a Horse is known to be a noble, bold and generous Animal, but I really know of no Qualities in you, suitable for such a Composition.----In your Reply, you desire the World to judge of the Honesty of us both; I hope by this Time they will be able to do it with Precision; their Judgment will ever be regarded with the greatest Attention, by their most humble Servant,

JOHN M'PHERSON.

To the PUBLICK.

THE highest Satisfaction I can enjoy, is a Consciousness of Integrity, and worthy Action; and next to this is that of standing well in the Opinion of good Men; it is therefore of much more Consequence to me to vindicate myself to the Publick, and stand well in their Opinion, than to mortify Mr. Garrigues. Nor will I either indulge or justify myself in exposing him, further than is necessary to vindicate myself against his cruel and unprovoked Abuses---The Value that I set on the good Opinion of Mankind, makes me, perhaps, unjustifiably impatient under any Incidents that threaten to deprive me of it. Mr. Garrigues's unjust Attack upon my good Name, raised my Passions almost to a Degree of Fury, and had he alone felt the Effects of them, I cannot think he ought much to be pitied; but it is with real Pain I reflect, that this unhappy Incident drew from me some Expressions, which my Respect to the Publick ought to have restrained; I now throw myself on their Candour, and beg Leave to say further, if any should condemn my Mode of calling Mr. Garrigues to an Account, I desire they would not be precipitate in fixing their Opinion, but judge of me by my past and future Conduct.-----I have endeavoured, in my Address to Mr. Garrigues, to state the Facts on which he grounds his Obloquies, in the clearest Manner I was able; and now beg Leave to subjoin some Depositions, which will justify those Facts, and will only add, that Mr. Garrigues was notified to be present at the taking these Depositions, but refused to attend; I could have added many more, proving his Guilt, and my own Innocence; but as I purpose to commence a Suit against him for Damages, think it unnecessary at this Time.

JOHN M'PHERSON.

Philadelphia, ss.

ON the Twenty-seventh Day of May, 1766, before Samuel Mifflin, Esq; one of His Majesty's Justices for the City and County of Philadelphia, came Jonathan Howell, who, on his solemn Affirmation, declared, That some time in February last, he, this Affirmant, was at Work at a Stone Wall, which this Affirmant, Samuel Linton, and Aquilla Richards, were building round Mr. John M'Pherson's Garden, which Wall had been undertaken by the said Samuel Linton, and Aquilla Richards, for Five Shillings per Perch; but as they had complained of the Bargain, the said M'Pherson agreed to give them One Shilling per Perch more, and Liquor, as they informed him; that while this Affirmant was at Work at the said Wall, he heard some Conversation between Mr. M'Pherson and the said Aquilla Richards, about a Horse, which the said M'Pherson was riding at that Time; which Horse this Affirmant had often seen before, and which he had been informed was taken up as a Stray by Mr. M'Pherson's Servants. That he heard Aquilla Richards tell Mr. M'Pherson, that he knew the Owner of the Horse; that he belonged to one Mr. Phipps, a Butcher, who lived about Thirty Miles from Philadelphia. After some Conversation, Mr. M'Pherson asked Richards, what Time Phipps lost his Horse? Richards answered, Phipps had told him the Night before the Fall Fair; upon which Mr. M'Pherson looked earnestly at Richards, smiled, and said, It may be Phipps's Horse, but if ten Bishops would swear it, I would not believe them; and if Phipps comes and owns the Horse, he must be either a Knave or a Fool. That some Days after Phipps had got his Horse, this Affirmant heard Mr. M'Pherson say to the said Richards; I once had a very bad Opinion of you, but now I find you have done no more than what every honest Man should do; but how could I believe it was Phipps's Horse, when you and he both asserted he was lost the Night before the Fair, though the Horse was several Days before that time in my Possession; I really thought you were two artful Men, plotting to get the Horse from me, though you had no Right to him. The said Richards answered, I had as bad an Opinion of you, as you had of me. That this Affirmant well remembers, that the said Aquilla Richards told me at the Time this Conversation happened, he never had seen the Advertisement at the Robin Hood; at the same time he asked this Affirmant if he had seen it? He answered I did, but do not remember how he was described.

Affirmed the Day and Year aforesaid, before

JONATHAN HOWELL.

Philadelphia, ss.

ON the Twenty-seventh Day of May, 1766, before Samuel Mifflin, Esq; one of His Majesty's Justices for the City and County of Philadelphia, came Samuel Linton, and made Oath, That he this Deponent, and Aquilla Richards, did agree with Mr. John M'Pherson to build a Stone Wall round his Garden, for Five Shillings per Perch, which Agreement was drawn up in Writing, and to which they signed their Names. That some time after the said Aquilla Richards did complain that it was a hard Bargain; upon which, the said M'Pherson said, I never will take the Advantage of a poor Man, and if you think it is a hard Bargain, measure what you have done, I will pay you for it, and you may go about your Business. And that some time afterwards the said M'Pherson told them, if you are certain you cannot live by it at Five Shillings, I will give you Six, which this Deponent thinks was behaving with great Generosity, especially as he gave them Liquor, though they had agreed to have none. That while this Deponent was at Work at the said Wall, he heard some Conversation between Mr. M'Pherson and the said Aquilla Richards about a Horse, which the said M'Pherson was riding at that time, which Horse this Deponent had often seen before, he being taken up as a Stray by said M'Pherson's Servants, as this Deponent understood. That he remembers the said Aquilla Richards told Mr. M'Pherson, that he knew the Owner of the Horse, that he belonged to one Mr. Phipps a Butcher. That he remembers Mr. M'Pherson asked him what time Mr. Phipps lost his Horse? That he answered, Phipps had told him the Night before the Fair; upon which Mr. M'Pherson answered, Aye, Aye, it may be Phipps's Horse, but if ten Bishops would swear it, I would not believe them, and if ever Phipps comes to own the Horse, he must be either a Knave or a Fool. That some time after Phipps got his Horse, this Deponent heard Mr. M'Pherson say to the said Richards, I once had a very bad Opinion of you, but now I find you have done no more than what every honest Man should do; but how could I believe it was Phipps's Horse, when you and he both asserted he was lost the Night before the Fair, though the Horse was several Days before that time in my Possession.----I really thought you were two artful Men, plotting to get the Horse from me, though you had no Right to him. Upon which the said Richards replied, indeed I had as bad an Opinion of you, as you had of me. This Deponent well remembers, that at the time Mr. M'Pherson had the Conversation about the Horse with Aquilla Richards, he asked him, if ever he had seen any of his Advertisements; he answered No---I never did.

Sworn the Day and Year aforesaid before

Philadelphia, ss. May 31, 1766.

THEN came Joseph M'Farland before me, the Subscriber, one of the Justices for said County, and being duly sworn upon the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, did depose, declare and say, That as he, this Deponent, was travelling from Philadelphia some time about the latter End of November last, to the best of his Knowledge, he saw an Advertisement on a Tree in the Wissahickon Road, at the End of the Lane that turns down to Captain M'Pherson's House; that he stept across the Road, and read the said Advertisement, which was not higher than Advertisements are commonly put; which Advertisement described a Horse then in Captain M'Pherson's Possession; and that he very well remembers to see the Horse advertised by Captain M'Pherson in the publick Prints, with the same Descriptions as were in the said Advertisement; and that this Deponent also remembers, that Captain M'Pherson's Gardiner, Robert Craig, came to his House, and asked him if he saw such an Advertisement, and told him, if he could hear of any Person that lost such a Horse, to send him to Captain M'Pherson.

Philadelphia, ss. June 3, 1766.

THEN came William Renshaw before me, the Subscriber, one of the Justices of the said County, and, upon his solemn Affirmation, did declare and say, That on or about the latter End of November last, he saw, and read, an Advertisement, signed by John M'Pherson, and which was pasted upon a Tree, at the Corner of the Wissahickon Road, and the Lane leading to Captain M'Pherson's House, describing a Horse then in Possession of said M'Pherson, which had been taken up as a stray Horse. And this Affirmant further saith, that the said Advertisement was not higher than is usual to place Advertisements in the Country; and that he has seen an Advertisement of the same Tenor, as he verily believes, in one of the News Papers of this Province.

Taken before me,
the Day and Year above written,
THOMAS WILLING.

Just reprinted, and to be sold by WILLIAM DUNLAP, at the Newest Printing-Office, in Market Street, Philadelphia, a neat Pocket Edition of

The LIFE of GOD, in the SOUL of MAN.

The following Recommendation of this Book was sent to us by a Gentleman of this City, who is one of the principal Encouragers of the present Publication.

"This excellent little Book has passed through many Editions, and is now reprinted here, at the particular Request of several Persons, who wish well to the Interests of Religion. It is written in a plain, familiar Stile. It breathes the true Spirit of the Gospel, and represents Christianity to be, what it really is, a Divine Life, rather than a Divine Science, influencing the Heart, rather than informing the Head, not resting in Speculation, but leading immediately to Practice. It has been received and admired among every Denomination of Christians, and, under the Blessing of Heaven, has brought many careless Sinners to a Sense of inward Religion, and the Exercise of vital Piety. It is indeed one of the best Compends of Practical Divinity that is extant; and whoever reads it with a sincere Desire of spiritual Instruction and Consolation, will receive more Satisfaction from it, than from many large Volumes, that have been written upon the Subject."

SIR,

"The contributing in the leaſt Degree to the Intereſts of Great-Britain and her Colonies, to the Relief of our lately diſtreſſed Fellow Subjects on this Continent, and to the Welfare and Happineſs of the good People of this Government, affords us ample Satisfaction for any Care and Concern we have had on this Occaſion: But the full Approbation of our Conduct by this Honourable Houſe, expreſſed in ſo polite and kind a Manner, is vaſtly more than we conceive our beſt Services are intitled to, is equal to our moſt ſanguine Wiſhes, and gives us the moſt ſincere and Heart-felt Pleaſure." A true Copy, taken from the Minutes,

HARTFORD, May 26.

Laſt Monday Evening the long expected joyful News of the total Repeal of the Stamp-Act arrived in Town: Upon which happy Event, the General Aſſembly of this Colony, now ſitting here, appointed the Friday following, as a Day of general Rejoicing---The Morning was uſher'd in by the Ringing of Bells---the Shipping in the River diſplayed their Colours---at 12 o'Clock 21 Cannon were diſcharged, and the greateſt Preparations making for a general Illumination. We alſo hear that a Number of other Houſes in ſaid Town were illuminated, a large Bonfire made, and ſuch Expreſſions of Joy were ſhewn, as became a free and loyal People.

Charleſtown, May 19. This Day being ſet apart for public Rejoicings, on Account of the Repeal of the Stamp-Act, the Dawn was uſhered in with the Ringing of Bells, beſides a Diſplay of Colours on board the Shipping in the Harbour. At Noon the Independent Company belonging to Caſtle William muſtered, and diſcharged the Cannon at the Battery; and in the Afternoon the ſame Company met at the Long-Wharff, where a Number of the principal Gentlemen of the Town aſſembled, and the following Toaſts were drank, viz.

At every Toaſt ſeven Cannon were diſcharged, and in the Evening the Houſes in the Town were beautifully illuminated----in ſhort, the whole was conducted with the greateſt Decency, and every Countenance diſcovered the ſincereſt Joy upon the Re-eſtabliſhment of our happy Privileges.

NEW-YORK, June 5.

Yeſterday being the 4th of June, the Anniverſary of our moſt gracious Sovereign's Birth-Day, it having been previouſly determined by the Gentlemen in Town to celebrate the ſame with all poſſible Demonſtrations of Joy, in Token of our Loyalty and Gratitude to our beloved Monarch, who ſo lately, on the 18th of March laſt, together with a large patriotic Majority in both Houſes of Parliament, heard the Cry of the diſtreſſed Americans, and repealed that intolerable Grievance the Stamp-Act, and are now planning other benevolent Acts:-----Therefore, to impreſs theſe Bleſſings on the Minds of the People, and make them ſenſible of the Happineſs we enjoy in our Union with, and Dependance on, Great-Britain,----the Morning was uſhered in with the Ringing of Bells of every Congregation, who however they may differ in ſpeculative Tenets, heartily concurred in their Love and Loyalty to the beſt of Sovereigns.---By 7 o'Clock they began to prepare to roaſt two large fat Oxen, on the Common, which was ſoon crowded with many Spectators, to gaze at the mighty Roaſt Beef. At 12 o'Clock a Gun was fired from the Fort, as a Signal for the Council, the General, and Military Officers, the Corporation, and all the Gentlemen, to wait on the Governor, to drink the King's Health; and never on ſuch an Occaſion before, was the Company ſo numerous or ſplendid: Now the Battery Guns fired a Royal Salute, and the Air reſounded with the joyful Acclamations of, Long live the King, the Darling of his People.---Soon after, this Salute was anſwer'd by the Men of War, and Merchant Veſſels, deck'd in all their Pageantry of Colours. The Preparations in the Common attracted our Attention; on each Side there was an Ox roaſting, a large Stage with 25 Barrels of ſtrong Beer, a Hogſhead of Rum, Sugar and Water, to make Punch; Bread, &c. At one End, a Pile of 20 Cords of Wood, with a tall Maſt in the Middle, to the Head of which was hoiſted 12 Tar and Pitch Barrels, and placed on a round Top. At the other End of the Common, were fixed 25 Pieces of Cannon, and at the Top of a Maſt, a Flag-Staff, with Colours diſplayed.

The principal Inhabitants gave an elegant Entertainment to the Governor, the General, and Military Officers, the Miniſters of all Profeſſions, and all the Strangers in Town. Tho' the Company was about 340, every Thing was conducted with the greateſt Regularity and Decorum: At the King's Health a Royal Salute was fired by the Guns in the Common, and at each Toaſt afterwards a Salute was given, to complete 28, the Number of Years of the King's Age.---The following Toaſts were drank with grateful Hearts.

Beſides the Oxen and other Preparations for the People in the Common, the Overplus from the ſeveral Tables was ſent there to be diſtributed, not forgetting the New-Goal, and Poor-Houſe: In the Evening the Town was illuminated in the grandeſt Manner that was ever ſeen here, particularly the Governor, and General's Houſes; and tho' the Streets continued crowded all the Evening, yet we don't hear that there happen'd any Diſputes, Quarrelling, or Accident.

WILMINGTON (North-Carolina) April 30.

A Proclamation was lately iſſued by his Excellency the Governor, by and with the Advice of his Majeſty's Council, prohibiting the Exportation of Indian Corn; notwithſtanding which, we are informed, that a Schooner has ſince ſailed, loaded with that Grain, for Little-River (the Boundary River between this and the South Province) and from thence to Charleſtown.---There is at preſent the greateſt Reaſon to believe, that e'er many Weeks, we ſhall have a ſevere Dearth here, Corn being extremely ſcarce, and little or no Flour in the Province; and unleſs thoſe whoſe Buſineſs it is, exert themſelves, in ſeeing the Laws ſtrictly obſerved, we cannot at preſent ſay what will be the Conſequence.

May 7. The Scarcity of Proviſions in this Place for ſome Time paſt has been ſuch, that Yeſterday, when a Mulattoe Fellow arrived from the Sound with a ſmall Parcel of Fiſh, almoſt one Half the People in Town were tearing them from him, tho' at the Price of 1s. 4d. or 1s. 8d. per ſmall Fiſh.

May 21. When the News of the Stamp-Act being repealed reached Maſonborough (a delightful Seat, erected by a late worthy Maſon, and true Patriot, about 7 Miles from hence, lying on the Banks of the Sound) ſome of the Wilmingtonians, who were occaſionally there, ſhewed the greateſt Marks of Joy and Loyalty on the Occaſion: It being Evening, they immediately erected Three Times Three Bonfires, drank many loyal patriotic Toaſts, and cloſed the Day with Muſic, Dancing, and Joy.

WILLIAMSBURG, May 16.

On Sunday laſt died JOHN ROBINSON, Eſq; a Member of the General Aſſembly for the county of King and Queen. He had been almoſt 30 years Speaker of the Burgeſſes, every one allowing to his indiſputable merit, not the ſecond, but the firſt place in that Houſe; which poſt he filled with ſufficient ability, and equal dignity: So that the publick is deprived of a moſt uſeful ſervant. And the many amiable virtues which adorned his private ſtation, whilſt they conſecrate his memory among his friends, dependents, and acquaintance, mark his death as a calamity to be lamented by the unfortunate and indigent, who were wont to be relieved and cheriſhed by his humanity and liberality.

FALMOUTH (Caſco Bay) May 23.

On Friday laſt arrived here the Scarborough Maſt-Ship, Capt. Tate, in 24 Days from London, who brought us a verbal Account of the total Repeal of the Stamp-Act, on the 18th of March laſt; and on Sunday Noon following an Expreſs arrived from Portſmouth, with a Confirmation and the Particulars of the great and glorious News (for whom a handſome Collection was made) which ſeemed to change the Countenance of all Ranks of People, and every Friend to Liberty, was filled with Pleaſure and Satisfaction,---on which Occaſion an Anthem was ſung after Service at Church.---The Morning following was uſhered in with every Demonſtration of Loyalty and Joy that could poſſibly be expreſſed, ſuch as Ringing of Bells, Firing of Cannon at the Fort, and on board the Shipping in the Harbour, having all their Colours diſplayed, Beating of Drums, &c. when many loyal Toaſts were drank, viz. The King, The Queen, The Royal Family, The great Pitt, Conway, Barre, &c. &c. And on Tueſday the ſame noble Spirit appeared; in the Evening the Houſes in the Town were beautifully illuminated, Fireworks play'd off, Bonfires erected, &c. The whole concluded with ſo much Order and Decorum, that it did great Honour to the Town.

We alſo hear from York, that on Monday laſt many Demonſtrations of Loyalty and Joy were expreſſed on the Repeal of the Stamp-Act.

Great Rejoicings were likewiſe at Wells, and other Towns to the Eaſtward, on this important Occaſion.

BOSTON, June 2.

Abington, May 17, 1766.

Meſſieurs EDES and GILL,

THIS Morning paſſed through this Town, two Strangers, with the Glorious News of the Repeal of the Stamp-Act. They were received as though they had been Angels; our Houſes and our Hearts ſpontaneouſly opened to receive them.---At this Time was remarkably verified that beautiful Saying, As cold Water to a thirſty Soul, ſo is good News from a far Country.

The News was immediately proclaimed by the Beat of Drum, and the Ringing of our Bells, by which Means were collected a large Number of People (conſidering we were in the midſt of Planting) who in a decent Manner aſſembled with their Miniſter on the Green, and there gave publick Thanks to Him by whom Kings reign; for that it hath pleaſed him, in his over-ruling Providence, to raiſe up Friends to the Colonies, powerful enough to bring about a total Repeal of the Stamp-Act, that would have entailed Slavery on us and our Children yet unborn, had it remained in Force.----The Solemnity ended by ſinging a Pſalm ſuitable to the Occaſion.

The Converſation of the Day would have been pleaſing to any Lovers of Liberty, either here or in Europe. The King and Royal Family, Mr. Pitt, Lord Cambden, General Conway, Col. Barre, and all the Friends of Liberty in England, were toaſted, and had our good Wiſhes that they might, ſome Way or other, be eternized.

Your's A. B.

Laſt Thurſday great Rejoicings were made at Portſmouth, by Ringing of Bells, Firing of Cannon, Illuminations, Fireworks, &c. on the above Occaſion.

NEWPORT, June 2.

Laſt Tueſday was appointed by the Sons of Liberty, for our Public Rejoicings in this Town, on the glorious News of the Repeal of the Stamp-Act.

The Populace were ſo impatient that, before One o'Clock in the Morning, all the Bells in the Town were ſet a ringing, Drums were beat, Muſic played, and Guns were diſcharged. At Sun-riſe a Signal Gun was fired, and the Flag hoiſted, at Fort George; immediately Enſigns were diſplayed upon the Tree of Liberty---at the Bottom of the Parade---upon the Tops of Houſes ---on the Shipping in the Harbour---and at the Batteries at the South and North End of the Town.---From the front Steps of the Court-Houſe was exhibited a beautiful Piece of Painting, eight Feet wide, and fourteen Feet high, conſiſting of four Compartments. In the lower Compartment, to ſhew the Advantages which Liberty gives to Commerce, was drawn a fine Proſpect of the Harbour of Newport, with the Ships Pitt, Conway, Grafton, &c. entering it deeply laden, and with Colours flying.----In the ſecond Compartment, ſtood the Goddeſs of Liberty, ſurrounded by the Right Honourable Mr. Secretary Conway, the Marquis of Rockingham, Lord Cornwallis, Lord Paulet, Lord Shelburne, Lord Torrington, General Howard, and Colonel Barre.----In the Center of the third, His Majeſty, in his Royal Robes, ſat enthroned, and, with a moſt gracious Aſpect, pointed to a Scroll, which fell from the Table on which his Right Arm reſted; on which Scroll was inſcribed, in Capitals, "Stamp-Act Repealed, 1766. G. R." At his Majeſty's Right Hand, with one Hand on his Breaſt, his Thoughts diſtended with the Patriot Virtues, and with the other holding forth Magna Charta, ſtood the firm, determined Friend of Conſtitutional Liberty, the Immortal Pitt. ---At the left Hand of his Majeſty, holding in his Right Hand the Bill of Rights, ſtood the Britiſh Ariſtides, the patriotic, upright Cambden.---A beautiful Landſkip, charged with vegetable Productions, repreſenting the Bleſſings which Liberty beſtows on Agriculture, and rural Life, filled the upper triangular Compartment, and finiſhed the Piece.---This Exhibition was in Teſtimony of Loyalty and Gratitude to the King's Moſt Excellent Majeſty;---in Gratitude and Honour to the glorious Majorities in both Houſes of Parliament;---and particularly in Honour and Gratitude to the Illuſtrious Five---and the other patriotic Worthies, who ſtood forth, ſtrenuouſly exerted, and nobly diſtinguiſhed themſelves in the glorious Cauſe of American Liberty.

At Twelve o'Clock, Fort George fired a Royal Salute, which was returned from the South and North Batteries. At Three o'Clock, his Honour the Governor, attended by the Committee of the Sons of Liberty, the Civil Officers of the Government, and Gentlemen of the Town, was eſcorted by the Officers of the Militia, with Colours flying, and Drums beating, in grand Proceſſion, to the Court-Houſe, where a Number of loyal and patriotic Toaſts were drank.

At every Toaſt the Trumpet ſounded an Air, and five Cannon were diſcharged; and Joy and Gratitude ſparkled in every Face, while the Glaſs circulated in Honour of his Majeſty, the Britiſh Worthies, and all the true Friends of Great-Britain, and her Colonies.----In the Evening, the Court-Houſe, the Paintings, and the Town, were moſt beautifully illuminated. The curiouſly and regularly diſpoſed Lights, in many of the Buildings, equalling in Number the Majorities in both Houſes of Parliament,---and the grand, wide-ſpreading Tree of Liberty, hung full of Glaſs Lanthorns,---made a moſt brilliant, magnificent Appearance.----- The Flight of a Rocket from the Bottom of the Parade, gave the Signal to the Stage erected on the Hill; upon which, nine Cannon, planted near the Stage, were diſcharged, and Rockets, and other Fireworks, began to be played off there, and from different Parts of the Town.---The continual Flight of the Rockets, which ſhed a Thouſand glittering Stars, made the ſpangled Arch glow with new Beauties till Midnight, when Wheels and Fountains cloſed the moſt grand, and moſt beautiful Scene, that ever was exhibited in this Colony.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.

On Friday laſt the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province adjourned to the Eighth of September next.

On Wedneſday, the 4th Inſtant, a large Number of reputable Inhabitants of Philadelphia, the Northern Liberties, Diſtrict of Southwark, &c. in Purſuance of a previous Agreement, met on the Banks of the River Schuylkill, to celebrate the KING's Birth-Day, and to teſtify their Gratitude to His Majeſty and Parliament, for their Condeſcenſion in repealing the Stamp-Act.

At 9 o'Clock in the Morning, the Franklin Smack, joined by the large New White Oak Barge, upwards of 50 Feet in Length, came up the River, beautifully decorated with a Variety of Colours flying, and anchored in the Stream, oppoſite the Place of Entertainment. About the ſame Hour, the Old White Oak Barge, upwards of 40 Feet long, fixed in a Cradle, on 4 Wheels, in the ſame Manner ornamented; a Number of reputable Ship-Carpenters, with their Oars, and ſeveral Muſicians, with their Inſtruments of Muſic, being ſeated under a Canopy, were drawn through the moſt public Streets in the City, by ſeven ſtately Horſes, the Muſic playing. Several Salutes were fired from the Barge in ſundry Parts of the City, and every Demonſtration of Joy appeared as they paſſed. On their Arrival at the Place of Entertainment, another Salute to the Company there met was fired. At 2 o'Clock 430 Perſons dined at Tables, fixed in a beautiful Grove, near the River. After Dinner the following Healths were drank, and Guns fired by the City Artillery, the Franklin Smack, and the New and Old White-Oak Barges, viz.

1. GEORGE the Third, King of Great-Britain, &c. After which was fired by the Artillery a Royal Salute of 21 Guns, anſwered by the Smack with 15, by the New White-Oak with 5, and by the Old White-Oak, on Land, with 5: Then was ſung, by a ſelect Company, "God ſave Great GEORGE our King," the Muſic, &c. joining in the Chorus.

2. The QUEEN. The Artillery ſaluting with 15 Guns, anſwered by the Smack and Barges. Song, "She comes, Queen CHARLOTTE comes."

3. The Prince of WALES, Duke of YORK, and all the ROYAL FAMILY. The Artillery fired 11 Guns; the Smack and Barges returned this and every ſucceeding Salute.

4. A perpetual Union between Great-Britain and her Colonies, to the Proſperity of the whole; and Support of the Illuſtrious Houſe of Hanover, on the Britiſh Throne, to the End of Time. The Artillery fired 9 Guns.

5. Both Houſes of Parliament. This, and every ſucceeding Toaſt, the Artillery ſaluted with 7 Guns.

6. Mr. Secretary Conway, and all the reſt of the preſent moſt worthy Miniſtry.

7. The glorious and immortal Pitt.

8. The Right Honourable the Lover and Supporter of Juſtice and Liberty, Lord Cambden.

9. Our worthy and faithful Agent, Doctor Franklin.

10. The London Committee of Merchants. *

11. America's Friends on both Sides the Atlantick.

12. His Honour the Governor, and Province of Pennſylvania.

13. The Aſſembly of Pennſylvania, and all the other Aſſemblies, who have the true Intereſt of the Colonies at Heart.

14. The Navy and Army of Great-Britain.

15. Trade and Navigation.

16. The Liberty of the Preſs throughout the Britiſh Dominions.

17. May the Manufactures of Great-Britain, the Population of the Colonies, and the Cultivation of their Lands, for ever increaſe, to the mutual Intereſt of both.

Several Songs were interſperſed throughout the whole, and concluded with "Fame, let thy Trumpet ſound," &c.

Night approaching, the Company marched in the following Order, to a Place appointed near the City, for the diſcharging a Number of Rockets. 1. A Number on Horſeback, three deep. 2. The City Artillery Company. 3. The White Oak Barge, drawn by the Horſes as before. 4. A Number of the Inhabitants on Foot, three deep. When the Barge was oppoſite the Stage erected for the Rockets, two ſingle Ones were fired as Signals to the City. Soon after, a large Rocket, as a Salutation to his moſt Gracious Majeſty, GEORGE the Third; another for the QUEEN; and for each ſingle Health drank at the Entertainment, was fired a Rocket; for the ROYAL FAMILY, and each other Health, where a Number was included, a Swarm of Rockets; upon which the Company retired in good Order. The Pleaſantneſs of the Day, the Rurality of the Proſpect, the Loyalty, Unanimity, and Harmony of the Company, together with the Decorum with which the whole was conducted, contributing to make it, perhaps, the moſt agreeable Entertainment of any hitherto enjoyed by ſo large a Number, on this Side the Ocean.

* The Reaſon of placing the Healths in this Order was, that we might firſt toaſt the Friends to America in England, then croſs the Atlantick, to thoſe in America.

"Your publiſhing the following Copy of a Letter from a Merchant in London to his Friend in North-America, will oblige many of your Readers. I am, &c."

Extract of a Letter from London, March 26, 1766.

"I very ſincerely congratulate you on the Repeal of the Stamp Act. His Majeſty's gracious Intentions, ſignified in his Speech from the Throne, ſo expreſſive of his paternal Care of all his People, recommending to both Houſes of Parliament a calm, diſpaſſionate, though ſtrict Enquiry into the Tumults that had ariſen in North-America, had all the Effect that could be expected from the Moderation, ſo replete with Tenderneſs and Forbearance, therein recommended; the Parliament giving the moſt immediate, ample, and unprejudiced Attention to this important Buſineſs, and at length, after the moſt minute and circumſtantial Information, by Evidence, and otherwiſe, and after ſundry warm Debates, this great Point for the Colonies hath been carried. This Repeal of the Stamp-Act, ſtrongly evidences the Moderation, unexampled Lenity and Tenderneſs of Parliament, and will naturally impreſs your Minds with Sentiments of the moſt reſpectful Gratitude to the Mother Country, and which I have no Doubt will be productive of, and ſhew itſelf in, a chearful Obedience to the Laws and Legiſlative Authority of Great-Britain.

"In the Courſe of the Enquiry, Meſſieurs H----d, M----t, and M---r J---s, were called to the Bar of the Houſe, and I muſt do them the Juſtice to ſay, did all great Honour to their Characters. No Expreſſion like Prejudice, or Reſentment for the Treatment they had received, dropped from them in the Courſe of their Teſtimony; particularly the Major, who anſwered to the Queſtions aſked him with Boldneſs, Knowledge, and without Paſſion or Prejudice; and when the Enquiry led to the unwarrantable and tumultuous Proceedings that he was Witneſs to at New-York, he ſeemed to wiſh to draw a Veil over them, and, unprovoked at, or forgetful of, the Injuries he had perſonally ſuffered by the Outrage of the Populace, ſpoke with Tenderneſs of thoſe miſguided People, and far from ſhewing any Acrimony againſt Particulars, I cannot hear that, either in public or private, he has pointed out any Perſon or Perſons, as Leaders or Inſtigators of the Outrages that were committed.------And let me add, that many here are of Opinion, that the Teſtimonies of thoſe Gentlemen, particularly his, had great Weight in perſuading the Repeal of the Act."

JOHN SMITH, hired a Horſe from me, the Subſcriber, living on Society-hill, Philadelphia, to go to Darby, to fetch 15 Head of Cattle from the Iſlands, to be brought to Mr. William Jones's Place; he mentioned the ſame Story that he told me at the Lower Ferry, and he agreed with me to deliver me my Horſe that Evening, or next Morning at furtheſt, and I have never heard of him ſince, but believe him to be a very great Deceiver, and moſt likely to change his Name. The Marks of the Horſe are, he is ſhort backed, very chunky, quite a dark bay, the Mane ridged, and the Tail cut, with one Saddle Spot on the off Side, and very remarkable; he trots a little, and chiefly paces; he had on an old Saddle without a Crupper. He told me he had bought a Plantation from Moſes Vernon, about 4 Miles from Cheſter, near the Meeting-houſe, containing 103 Acres; the Horſe had a Brand on the near Buttock, which I am not certain whether it was I S or P S---The ſaid Smith was about 5 Feet 6 Inches high, a middle aged Man, full faced, long Noſe, ſhort Chin, and had on when he went away, a blue Cloth Coat, and Jacket of the ſame, Leather Breeches, and one of his Shoes very remarkable, with a Patch on one Side of his Shoe. LONDON.

April 1. The inferences drawn from the naval promotions lately made among the Dutch, as if theſe promotions were the forerunners of a new war, ſeem to have very little foundation; they being probably nothing more than the conſequences of the recent majority of his Highneſs the Stadtholder, who could not well omit ſo good an opportunity of teſtifying his regard for his friends, by procuring them and their adherents employments on the occaſion. The æra beſides was of a nature that was to be marked with ſomething ſignal on the occaſion.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.

Yeſterday arrived here Captain Roſs, from Barbados, by whom we have the following melancholy Account, viz.

Extract of a Letter from Bridgetown, in Barbados, May 21, 1766.

"A Houſe accidentally (or rather through Careleſſneſs) took Fire in High-ſtreet, laſt Wedneſday Night, about Eleven o'Clock, and burnt with ſuch Rapidity, that it conſumed all Broad-ſtreet, one Part of Jew-ſtreet, and a great Part of the lower End of the Town; the Number of Houſes conſumed are computed at 418, beſides Stores, &c. A great Quantity of Flour, and other Proviſions, was conſumed, and we were apprehenſive of being in Want, but ſince the Misfortune, two Ships from Philadelphia, and ſome from Virginia, have providentially arrived here to our Relief, and afforded us Plenty."

Some Lives were loſt in the Confuſion, in getting out of the Houſes.----We have heard of no general Computation of the Loſs, but it muſt certainly be prodigious; and Captain Roſs informs us, that the Remainder of the Town was afterwards three times attempted to be ſet on Fire by the Negroes.

JOHN WHITE has the Pleaſure to inform the Publick, that the Bath is now in very excellent Order; an Engine, which takes the Water from the Bottom, is erected, and has given ſuch Satisfaction to thoſe who have taken Tickets, and to others who have ſeen it, that they have allow'd every Objection to the Water's not being changed often enough, to be entirely removed. He alſo has the Pleaſure to ſay, that thoſe who have ſeen Baths in England, have allowed it to be equally perfect with them: From hence he doubts not of its meeting with proper Encouragement, particularly when it is known of what ſingular Efficacy it has already been in curing many fixed Diſorders, which have not commonly been known to yield to the Power of Medicine. He alſo proclaims, that the ſame Waters may be drank from a Fountain-ſpring near the Bath; and as they are evidently the ſame, from many chymical Experiments, with thoſe at Briſtol, ſo much famed all over the World, he doubts not but the Salubrity of his Spring will invite thoſe to uſe them who deſire to enjoy and preſerve Health, as well as thoſe who are ſearching for it. Tickets for one whole Year may be had of him, and of the Waiter at the London Coffee-Houſe, for one Piſtole each; and as many of the Phyſicians in Philadelphia have agreed in Opinion with all thoſe who have written on the Subject, that Cold-bathing is ſerviceable in many Caſes, and in ſome a principal Remedy, moſt of them have alſo been ſupplied, and others may with Tickets, to diſpoſe of to their Patients, whenever Cold-bathing becomes their Preſcription.

SECOND PROTEST of the LORDS againſt the Bill to repeal the AMERICAN STAMP ACT.

SPEAKERS againſt the Repeal. Lord Littleton, Earl of Bute, Earl Gower.

For the Repeal. Duke of Newcaſtle.

DIE LUNÆ, 17 MARTII, 1766.

The order of the day being read, for the third reading of the bill, intituled, An Act to repeal an Act intituled, An Act for granting and applying certain ſtamp duties, and other duties, in the Britiſh colonies and plantations in America, &c. Then the ſaid bill was read a third time, and it being propoſed to paſs the bill, the ſame was objected to. After ſome debate thereupon, the queſtion was put, whether the ſaid bill ſhall paſs? It was reſolved in the Affirmative.

DISSENTIENT,

FIRST. Becauſe we think, that the declaratory bill we paſt laſt week, cannot poſſibly obviate the growing miſchiefs in America, where it may ſeem calculated only to deceive the people of Great-Britain, by holding forth a deluſive and nugatory affirmance of the legiſlative right of this kingdom, whilſt the enacting part of it does no more than abrogate the reſolutions of the houſe of repreſentatives in the North-American colonies, which have not in themſelves the leaſt colour of authority; and declares that, which is apparently and certainly criminal, only null and void.

Secondly. Becauſe the particular objections, which have been made to the Stamp-Act in North-America, and which have been adopted in the courſe of the debates upon this bill for repealing it, are in fact contradicted by undeniable evidence upon our table; it having been urged, Firſt, That all the money to be collected by this Tax was to be annually remitted hither, and that the North American colonies would thereby be drained of all their ſpecie; and ſecondly, That the inſtitution of vice-admiralty courts in thoſe colonies, for the recovery of penalties upon revenue laws without juries, is a novel practice, by means of which his Majeſty's ſubjects in thoſe dominions, "would be deprived of one of their "moſt valuable liberties, trials by juries, and in this reſpect diſtinguiſhed from their fellow ſubjects in Great-Britain;" and would likewiſe be liable to the greateſt inconvenience, vexation and injuſtice, thro' the option left to any proſecutor, to call them from one end of that extenſive continent to the other; and thro' the temptation to the judge, to condemn rather than to acquit, from his being paid by poundage of the condemnation money; whereas, with regard to the firſt of theſe objections, it appears by the minute of the late board of treaſury laid before this houſe, and dated on the 9th day of July laſt, that the fulleſt directions had been ſent to the ſeveral officers of the revenue, "that in or"der to obviate the inconvenience of bringing into this kingdom "the money to be raiſed by the Stamp duties, all the produce of "the American duties ariſing, or to ariſe, by virtue of any Bri"tiſh act of Parliament, ſhould, from time to time, be paid to "the deputy pay-maſter in America, to defray the ſubſiſtence of "the troops, and any military expences incurred in the colonies;" and with regard to the ſecond objection, it is manifeſt, from ſundry acts of Parliament, that a juriſdiction has been aſſigned to the judges of thoſe courts, for the recovery of penalties upon the laws of revenue, and of trade, without juries, for near a century paſt, from the conſideration (as we apprehend) that in ſome of the colonies they are the only judges not elected by the people; and ſo for it is from being true that the ſubjects in North-America, by being deprived in theſe caſes of trials by juries, were in that reſpect diſtinguiſhed from their fellow ſubjects in Great-Britain, that, in this very inſtance of the Stamp-duties, the penalties, which by the American Stamp-Act were made recoverable without a jury, before a judge of the vice admiralty court, are, by the laws now in force for collecting the ſtamp-duties in Great Britain, recoverable alſo without a jury, before two juſtices of the Peace, with the like powers in both caſes, which we earneſtly wiſh were not ſtill more neceſſary for the collection of the public revenue in America, than in Great-Britain; and which we ſhould be moſt deſirous, if poſſible, to alleviate in both countries; with this view, and to take away all juſt occaſion for diſcontent, we were glad to find by the repreſentation from the late commiſſioners of the treaſury to his Majeſty in council, dated the 4th day of July laſt, that the ſtricteſt attention had been given by that board to prevent the inconvenience and injuſtice abovementioned, by a plan to eſtabliſh three different courts of vice admiralty at the moſt convenient places, with proper diſtricts annexed to each; and to give the judges ſufficient and honourable ſalaries, in lieu of all poundage and fees whatſoever; but we cannot obſerve, without the higheſt concern and ſurpriſe, that this repreſentation, founded upon a clauſe inſerted in the Stamp act for this very purpoſe, and expreſly calculated to relieve his Majeſty's ſubjects in North America from many unneceſſary hardſhips and oppreſſions, to which they are now liable by many other laws ſtill ſubſiſting, ſhould be totally diſregarded for ſeveral months, and be ſuffered to remain unexecuted in every part of it, even to this day; and that no notice whatever ſhould be taken, in any of the diſpatches from the preſent adminiſtration to the governors of the colonies in North-America, of the timely care which had been employed to obviate the objection raiſed on both thoſe heads; eſpecially as it is notorious that the meaſures to be purſued, in conſequence of that minute and repreſentation, had been fully ordered and approved in parliament, at the time when the Stamp act was propoſed; and as the total neglect of it has given occaſion to great clamour and diſſatisfaction in the colonies, we cannot help further obſerving, that as the ſtamp-act was not to take place till the firſt of November, if the parliament had been called early, their determinations, either for enforcing or repealing that law, would probably have delivered the merchants and manufacturers here from all the difficulties and diſtreſs to which they have been for ſo many months expoſed; nor would the diſorders in America, where all government is proſtrate, have riſen to ſo great a heighth, or taken ſo deep a root.

Thirdly. Becauſe the argument which has been uſed in favour of this Bill of repeal, that the experiment of the Stamp Act has been tried, and has failed, is extremely ill-founded; as it manifeſtly appears from the whole tenor of the papers laid before us, that if this experiment had been properly tried, with the ſame zeal for its ſucceſs with which it was firſt propoſed, it would not have failed in any of the colonies; and that this was the opinion of the greater part of the governors in North America, and of many of the moſt intelligent and reſpectable perſons in thoſe provinces, for ſome time after this Act was paſſed, is evident beyond a doubt, from the letters of the former now upon our table, and from the latter having applied for, and accepted the office of diſtributor of the Stamps under that Act, which they certainly would not have done, and thereby have expoſed their lives and fortunes to the violence and outrages which they have ſince undergone, if they had then thought the ſucceſs of this meaſure in any degree precarious; nor have we heard of any impracticability attending this law in Jamaica and Barbados, and ſome other of the Weſt-India iſlands, or in thoſe of our colonies in North America, where it has been executed.

Fourthly. Becauſe a precedent of the two houſes of parliament lending their power, from motives of fear or impatience under a preſent uneaſineſs, to overturn in one month a plan of meaſures, undertaken with their warmeſt approbation and concurrence, after the moſt mature deliberation of two years together, for the improvement of our revenue, and the relief of our people, will effectually diſcourage all officers of the crown in America from doing their duty, and executing the laws of this kingdom; and is enough to deter future miniſters, in any circumſtances of diſtreſs or danger to their country, from oppoſing their fortitude and zeal for the ſervice of the public, to ſtrong combinations of private and particular intereſts, to the clamour of multitudes, or the malice of faction; which muſt neceſſarily bring on ſuch a weakneſs and puſillanimity in the adminiſtration of government, as will ſoon end in the downfal and ruin of the ſtate.

Laſtly. Becauſe the repeal of this law, under the preſent circumſtances, will, we fear, not only ſurrender the honour and eſſential intereſts of the kingdom now and for ever, both at home and abroad, but will alſo deeply affect the fundamental principles of our conſtitution; for if we paſs this bill againſt our opinion, from the threats and compulſion publickly avowed in our colonies, and enforced by the moſt unjuſtifiable means within Great-Britain, we diſclaim that legiſlative authority over the ſubjects, which we own ourſelves unable to maintain. If we give our conſent to it here, without a full conviction that it is right, merely becauſe it has paſſed the other houſe, by declining to do our duty on the moſt important occaſion, which can ever preſent itſelf, and where our interpoſition, for many obvious reaſons, would be peculiarly proper; we in effect annihilate this branch of the legiſlature, and vote ourſelves uſeleſs. Or if by paſſing this bill, we mean to juſtify thoſe, who in America, and even in Great-Britain, have treated a ſeries of Britiſh acts of parliament as ſo many acts of tyranny and oppreſſion, which it is ſcarcely criminal to reſiſt; or thoſe officers of the crown, who, under the eye, and with the knowledge of government, have taken upon themſelves, whilſt the parliament was ſitting, without its conſent, to ſuſpend the execution of the Stamp-act, by admitting ſhips from the colonies, with unſtampt clearances, to an entry, in direct violation of it, which, from the papers upon our table, appears to have been done, we ſhall then give our approbation to an open breach of the firſt article of that great Palladium of our liberties, the bill of rights; by which it is declared, "That the pretended power of "ſuſpending of laws, or the execution of laws, by regal autho"rity, without conſent of parliament, is illegal." Laſtly, If we ground our proceedings upon the opinion of thoſe who have contended in this houſe, and from the conſtitution of our colonies they ought never to be taxed, even for their own immediate defence, we fear that ſuch a declaration, by which near a fifth part of the ſubjects of Great-Britain, who by the acts of parliament to reſtrain the preſſing of ſeamen in America, are already exempted from furniſhing men to our navy, are to be for ever exempted from contributing their ſhare towards their own ſupport in money likewiſe, will, from the flagrant partiality and injuſtice of it, either depopulate this kingdom, or ſhake the baſis of equality, and of that original compact, upon which every ſociety is founded; and as we believe, that there is no inſtance of ſuch a permanent exemption of ſo large a body of the ſubjects of any ſtate in any hiſtory, antient or modern, we are extremely apprehenſive of the fatal conſequences of this unhappy meaſure; to which, for theſe reaſons, in addition to thoſe contained in the proteſt of the 11th of this month, our duty to the king, and juſtice to our country, oblige us to enter this our ſolemn diſſent.

Iriſh linens and hollands, brown and white Iriſh and Ruſſia ſheetings, yd. wd. yd. 3-8ths, 7-eights, and 3-qrs. wide cotton and linen check, flaxen and hempen ozenbrigs, checked and ſpotted, blue, red, and white linen handkerchiefs, womens cotton and ſilk gown patterns, India nankeens, mens cut velvet waiſtcoat patterns, ſtriped ſilk ginghams, ſooſes, damaſcuſes, ſilk and worſted ſaggathies, 3 and 4 threaded worſted breeches patterns; a neat aſſortment of jointed ſilk umbrelloes; a very great variety of dark and light ground double and ſingle purple callicoes and cottons, pompadour, two purple, dark and light ground ſuperfine chintz and cottons, meſſinets, ſilverets, dreſdenets, crapes, poplin and hairbines, durants, tammies, ſhaloons and rattinets, ruſſels and callimancoes, worſted and ſilk coat bindings, coloured and white threads, with a variety of other articles in the dry good way: He has alſo for Sale, ſugar in barrels, Jamaica ſpirits, and Weſt-India rum, in hogſheads, with a very large aſſortment of Liverpool white and coloured ware in crates, well aſſorted for country ſtores, which he will ſell at a very low advance; amongſt which are, a quantity of yellow ware, hollow and flat.

He muſt once more requeſt all thoſe that ſtand long indebted to him, to be ſpeedy in making payment; particularly thoſe that have purchaſed goods at the caſh price, as the profits he ſells his goods at, will not admit of ſo long a credit as many have taken.

N. B. He muſt take this opportunity of acquainting his friends in the country, that he has lately entered into a partnerſhip with William Hemphill, in Wilmington, New-Caſtle county, for carrying on a trade in thoſe parts only, known by the name of Wade and Hemphill's New Store; where they have to ſell, at the Philadelphia prices, for caſh, moſt of the above-mentioned goods; with an aſſortment of hard ware, rum by the hogſhead or ſmaller quantity, Jamaica ſpirits, Liſbon wine, lump, loaf, and brown ſugars, coarſe and fine ſalt, fine blown ditto, ſuitable for butter, or table uſe, ſnuff, tobacco, pipes, and an aſſortment of ſpices; almoſt all ſorts of nails, fit for the country, frying-pans, iron pots and kettles, waggon wheel boxes, 8 by 10, and 7 by 9 window glaſs, gun-powder and ſhot, brimſtone, tea, coffee, chocolate, raiſins, currants; an aſſortment of pewter, crates of ware, ſome of which are opened, and ſold by retail; among which are, melon, grape, and pine apple tea-pots, bowls, ſugar diſhes, mugs, cups and ſaucers, cream-pots, blue and white ditto, and all white ditto, oblong and round diſhes, plates, &c. and a large quantity of yellow ware, ſuch as diſhes, plates, ſmall and large mugs and porringers, with a number of other articles, ſuitable for a country ſtore, and too tedious to inſert; all of which they are determined not only to ſell on as moderate terms as any one there, but on much more moderate terms, which the country, no doubt, is by this time convinced of, as one of the partners, Francis Wade, reſides in Philadelphia, and has an opportunity of having his goods on the beſt terms. Our cuſtomers may always depend on having them on the ſame terms as uſual, and a conſtant ſupply of the beſt that can be procured, ſo that the ſtore ſhall never be out of an aſſortment.

And as they purpoſe in the fall of the year, to purchaſe flaxſeed, hemp, barley, bees-wax, butter, and ſundry other country produce, thoſe that chooſe to bring their loading that way, may depend on always meeting with a market. And as the way from Lancaſter is 15 miles ſhorter than to Philadelphia, and no ferriage, the waggons can bring down their loading much ſooner than to Philadelphia; and for the further Encouragement of the waggoners, they may depend on always having good ſtabling for their horſes free, and a large incloſed yard for their waggons; country ſtores may be ſupplied there with many articles they may want, on as good terms as if they ſent to Philadelphia.

MEASE and MILLER,

Have juſt imported in the Carolina, Captain Friend, the Elizabeth, Captain Golley, from London, and the Phillis, Captain Robinſon, from Liverpool, SMTRNA, February 20.

WE have received again from Georgia melancholy News, but no particulars have tranſpired to the Publick. Great military Preparations are talked of, which the Porte propoſes to make uſe of againſt the Rebels this Summer.

Stockholm, April 4. Yeſterday being the Day appointed for the Publick Declaration of the Prince Royal's intended Marriage with the Princeſs of Denmark, the Deputies of the States went in Proceſſion to Court at Noon, to make their Compliments on the Occaſion.

The Report which had been ſpread, as if the new Dey of Algiers had declared War againſt Sweden, and ſent their Conſul away, proves to be falſe, and it is contradicted in a Paragraph publiſhed by Authority in the Swediſh Gazette of yeſterday.

Hague, April 18. The Weſt-India Company of this Republick has granted the ſame Prerogatives and Authority to the Prince of Orange as the Eaſt-India Company had done before; and Yeſterday a Deputation from their Corporation preſented his Serene Highneſs with the Commiſſion of Director and Governor-General of the Company.

Cadiz, March 25. In Conſequence of Orders from Madrid, an Advice Tartane has been equipped here with all poſſible Diligence, to carry ſome Diſpatches from the Court to Vera Cruz. This Veſſel ſailed the 18th, and the Packets ſhe carries, are ſaid to be of the greateſt Importance.

St. James's, April 22. The Ratifications of a Convention for the final Adjuſtment of the Canada Bills were this Day exchanged with his Excellency the Count de Guerchy, Ambaſſador from the Moſt Chriſtian King.

LONDON.

April 19. It is ſaid, that Commiſſions have been ſent over to North America, ſince the Repeal of the Stamp Act, for building 4000 Tons of Shipping, for the Uſe of the Merchants of this City.

Letters from Stockholm by Yeſterday's Holland Mail, give us the following Abſtract of the Treaty lately concluded between Great-Britain and Sweden.

Art. I. The High Allies engage, for themſelves and their Succeſſors, mutually to procure for their reſpective Subjects all the Advantages that lie in their Power.

Art. II. The two Powers ſhall reciprocally enjoy, in the Towns, Ports, Harbours and Rivers of their reſpective States, all the Rights, Advantages, and Immunities, which have been, or may be henceforth enjoyed there by the moſt favoured Nations; excepting in the Caſe mentioned in the 3d Article of the Preliminary Treaty of Commerce, concluded the 25th of April 1741, between the Courts of France and Sweden, concerning the Duties to be paid in the Port of Wiſmar.

Art. III. This Treaty of Alliance ſhall not be prejudicial to any other Power, and particularly thoſe who are Friends and Allies to the contracting Parties; but ſhall ſerve only to cement and ſtrengthen the good Harmony, Confidence, and reciprocal Friendſhip between the Sovereigns of the two States, as well as to procure the Welfare of their reſpective Subjects.

Art. IV. That this Alliance may contribute the more to the Benefit, Convenience, and Security of the two Crowns, their Majeſties will conſider of other Engagements that may be contracted between them, when Times and Conjunctures require it, for their reſpective Intereſts.

Art. V. The two Monarchs engage, as good and faithful Friends and Allies, to render reciprocally to each other all the good Offices that the Circumſtances may require for the Safety of their Kingdoms, Countries, Poſſeſſions and Subjects in Europe.

Art. VI. The Ratifications and Exchanges of this Treaty ſhall be made before the Expiration of two Months.

On Wedneſday next the Weſt-India and North America Merchants will give a grand Entertainment at Drapers hall, to the Chief Officers of State, and the reſt of the preſent patriotic Adminiſtration, who ſo meritoriouſly aſſiſted in obtaining the Repeal of the late unpopular Stamp-Act.

There is a Report of an Inſurrection, bordering upon open Rebellion, amongſt the Subjects of Spain in Mexico.

General Conway and Mr. Dowdeſwell, it is ſaid, are both indiſpoſed.

April 22. Saturday Evening arrived a Meſſenger from Falmouth, who came in the Liſbon Packet, and brought an Account, that the Admiral Stevens Packet was arrived there from India, with the News of Lord Clive's arrival at Bengal, in the Kent Indiaman, Captain Mills, in Company with the Aſia, Captain Inglis; that the Grenvill, Capt. Jenner, was arrived at Fort St. George; and that one of the Company's Ships homeward-bound, was put into Batavia, in great Diſtreſs, ſuppoſed to be the Admiral Pocock, which has been a miſſing Ship, and on which Inſurance of 50 per Cent. has been given.

The Eaſt-India Company have received Advice, that Lord Clive, on his Arrival at Bengal, found every thing in great Confuſion, occaſioned by the Death of the Nabob; but, thro' his Lordſhip's Influence, the Nabob's Son was placed on the Throne; that ſoon after a Peace, greatly to the Advantage of the Company, was concluded; and that every thing being quite ſettled, his Lordſhip would ſoon embark for England, his preſence being no longer required there.

The News from the Eaſt-Indies is, in general, as important as can be conceived. The Conſequences to the Company will be more than two Millions Sterling per Annum, beſides the greateſt Friendſhip being eſtabliſhed. Very lucrative Offers were made to Lord Clive, but refuſed; and the Great Mogul has conferred on him the Title of firſt Omar of the Empire, which is the greateſt Honour that can be conferred there.

Extract of a private Letter from a Gentleman at Calcutta, dated September 30, 1765.

"Were it in my Power to inform you circumſtantially of the very advantageous Peace Lord Clive has juſt concluded, it would needs prove acceptable to you, but in that Particular I am under a Neceſſity of referring you to the public Accounts, as little or nothing relative thereto will tranſpire till the Packet ſails; however, I may tell you, it is the general Opinion here, that all his Lordſhip's former Services are but Trifles, when compared with thoſe he has rendered the Company within theſe few Months; and that he has, to the Admiration of Europeans, as well as the People of the Country, refuſed many Importunities to become the richeſt Man in the World."

Since the above Intelligence was received, ſeven Meſſengers have been ſent to Holland; and India Stock has riſen from 165 one Half, to 172 ready Money, and 175 for the Reſcounters.

We hear the further raiſing Men for the India Company's Service is ordered to be diſcontinued.

Yeſterday the Hon. James Oſwald, Eſq; and the Right Hon. Lord George Sackville, took the Oaths in the Court of Chancery, to qualify themſelves as Joint Treaſurers of Ireland.

We hear that in the approaching Diſcuſſion of general Warrants, a Motion will be made by a patriotic Commoner, to ſet aſide the legality of Verdicts founded on preſumptive, not poſitive Evidence, in all ſucceeding Proſecutions on the Part of the Crown.

Yeſterday there was a very full Houſe of Commons; the Right Hon. William Pitt, Eſq; came to Town from his Seat at Hayes, to attend the Debates.

It is ſaid that the Court of Spain has ſent two General Officers into Switzerland, to engage 13,000 of their Troops into the Spaniſh Service immediately.

Letters from Spain, by this Day's Holland Mail, mention their having received Advice of an Inſurrection in Mexico, of which they had not yet all the Particulars. It was only known that the Vice-Roy had ſaved himſelf by Flight, and it was believed had taken Refuge in ſome Convent. This Event (ſay the Letters from Madrid) will be the more unfortunate, as it may retard for a Twelvemonth the Return of the Flota, which was expected in the Courſe of the preſent Year.

April 24. His Majeſty's Ship the Argo is hourly expected from the Eaſt-Indies, when the two Payments of the Nabob's Donation will be made to ſeveral Perſons who were concerned in the late War in that Country.

The Great Mogul has made Lord Clive a Preſent of a Diamond, ſaid to be worth 100,000l.

Lord Clive, amongſt other Advantages, has received a Reſignation or Grant of the whole Territory of Bengal, to the Eaſt-India Company, upon only paying ſome ſmall annual Stipends to the Great Mogul, and to the Nabob. This Grant, it is computed, will be of the Value of two Millions per Annum to the Company.

Extract of a Letter from Bengal, dated September 28, 1765.

"Lord Clive being arrived at Bengal, directly joined the Army at Eliabad, and in two Months returned to Bengal, having compleated his Wiſhes without a ſingle Blow. He has eſtabliſhed Peace throughout the Provinces, and reduced the whole Country under the Juriſdiction of the Eaſt-India Company, ſo that they are now the ſole Maſters of that immenſe Territory. They are to collect all the Revenues of the Kingdom, and to appoint all the public Officers, &c. His Lordſhip is buſy in fixing Barracks in every Part, where it is neceſſary, to keep the Natives in Subjection; he has ſettled an annual Salary, of fifty Lack, upon the Nabob, and about that Sum (as it is reported) upon the King or Mogul; the Company receive the Remainder of the Revenues, amounting to between two and three Millions yearly.

Extract of a Letter from Calcutta, Bengal, dated September 30.

"Lord Clive has got a Million for the Company from Sujah Doulah. The Fortunes of all his Followers are made, and conſequently his own once more affluent. We have Peace at preſent, though it is imagined the Army will not long be unemployed."

The Hon. Houſe of Commons did not break up till paſt two o'Clock yeſterday Morning.

If Credit may be given to ſome Advices from Spain, by the way of Holland, the Diligence uſed in the Dock-Yards of that Kingdom is very extraordinary: At Carthagena, we are informed, there are no leſs than ſix Ships of War, and three Frigates, ready for the Sea; and two Frigates more upon the Stocks, at that Port.

Yeſterday moſt of the great Officers of State attended a Privy-Council at St. James's.

April 26. Letters from Holland mention, that the Spaniards have withdrawn their Regular Troops from the Neighbourhood of Gibraltar, and have ſupplied their Places with Provincial Militia.

We are informed, that the important Queſtion which came lately under Conſideration, was, after many Hours Debate, at length determined by a Majority of One Hundred and Two.

Yeſterday arrived in Town in perfect Health, the Right Hon. Seymour Conway, Eſq;

It is aſſerted, that notwithſtanding all Reports to the contrary, a Change of Adminiſtration is at preſent on the Tapis, on Principles that muſt pleaſe every well-wiſher to his Country. How happy will it be for this Kingdom, if the odious Diſtinctions of Party are got over, and the good and great of all Sides knit together in Bonds of Union and public Spirit.

It was this Morning reported, that Advice is received, that the French have actually made a Settlement at Cape Verd, on the Coaſt of Africa.

It is whiſpered, that Sir Edward Hawke will ſhortly appear at the Head of a great Department.

There are ſaid to be upwards of Two Hundred Thouſand Pounds Sterling Value, in Jewels, on board the Admiral Stephens, lately put into Liſbon, from Bengal.

The Mercury Packet, belonging to the Honourable the Eaſt-India Company, is come out of Dock, and will ſail immediately to Bengal, with Expreſſes to Lord Clive.

Abſtract from the Votes of the Houſe of Commons.

And the ſame being read accordingly;

A Motion was made, and a Queſtion being propoſed, that a general Warrant to apprehend the Author, Printer or Publiſher of a Libel, is illegal; and if executed on the Perſon of a Member of this Houſe, is alſo a Breach of the Privilege of this Houſe.

And the previous Queſtion being put, that that Queſtion be now put, it was reſolved in the Affirmative.

Then the main Queſtion being put,

And the previous Queſtion being put, that that Queſtion be now put, it was reſolved in the Affirmative.

Then the main Queſtion being put,

Reſolved, That the ſeizing or taking away the Papers of the Author, Printer or Publiſher of a Libel, or the ſuppoſed Author, Printer or Publiſher of a Libel, is illegal; and that ſuch ſeizing or taking away the Papers of a Member of this Houſe, is a Breach of the Privilege of this Houſe."

April 29. Since the News of Lord Clive's ſucceſs reached Holland, very large Commiſſions have been received here from Amſterdam, for the Purchaſe of Property in the Eaſt-India Company's funds.

It is ſaid a Regiment of Highlanders will ſoon be raiſed for the Service of the Hon. Eaſt India Company.

Letters from Madrid ſay, that the Court had no other View in raiſing a Body of foreign Troops, than to fill the Place of ſeveral Regiments of Infantry, intended for Embarkation to S. America, where the late inſurrections had threatened a general Revolt.

We are informed, that the late Diſpatches from Governor Debatt, at Gambia, relative to the Encroachments of the French on our Trade and Settlements, have already been ſubmitted to a Cabinet Council, and freſh Remonſtrances to the Court of Verſailles ordered to be made on that Subject.

A great Number of Rings, ſet with the Head of Mr. Pitt, it is ſaid, is intended to be ſent as Preſents to ſome of the principal Merchants in America, by their Correſpondents in this City.

We hear an extraordinary Meſſenger arrived Yeſterday from Lord George Lenox, at the Court of France, and that his Grace the Duke of Richmond will in a few Days ſet out again for that Kingdom.

ANTIGUA, May 28.

Part of a Letter from Dominica, dated the 22d inſtant.

——"We have received dreadful news from Barbados, two-thirds of Bridge-town deſtroyed by fire the 14th inſtant: Alſo Fort Royal in Martinico the 19th inſtant."

Laſt Wedneſday a very elegant entertainment was provided by Mr. Lindſay to celebrate the repeal of that badge of American ſlavery the late Stamp Act: At which were preſent the principal gentlemen, merchants and inhabitants of this Iſland. The joy on this occaſion was great, every one expreſſing the ſenſe they have of his Majeſty's goodneſs, and the obligations which they lie under to thoſe members of the Britiſh Parliament who have ſo vigorouſly defended the rights of America.

BOSTON, June 9.

Wedneſday being the Aniverſary of his Majeſty's Birth-Day, the Governor's Troop of Guards, and Company of Cadets, as alſo the Regiment of Militia of this Town, with the Train of Artillery, were muſtered on this happy Occaſion, and appeared in King-Street at Noon;---at 1 o'Clock the Guns at Caſtle William, the Batteries and the Train, were diſcharged; alſo three Vollies were fired by the Troop, Regiment, and Cadets, reſpectively:---In the Evening a generous Entertainment was provided at the public Expence; where his Excellency the Governor, the Honourable his Majeſty's Council, the Members of the Honourable Houſe of Repreſentatives, a great Number of Officers, civil and military, with other principal Gentlemen in Town, met, when the KING's Health, and other loyal Toaſts, were drank, with great Pleaſure:---Every Demonſtration of Joy was ſhewn, and conducted with great Decency and good Order.

Laſt Saturday Morning Capt. Somes arrived here from Halifax, by whom we have Advice of the Death of his Excellency Montague Willmot, Eſq; Governor and Commander in Chief of that Place.

NEW-YORK, June 16.

Capt. Quill, in 31 Days from the Bay of Honduras, ſays, that among the Keys as he came out, he met going in, Capt. Fairchild, of this Port, and the Ship Dragon, and a Brig, both belonging to Philadelphia. Capt. Quill ſailed in Company with Capt. Cooney, of and for this Port, and left him off Rattan.

Extract of a Letter from Detroit, April 30, 1766.

"The communication has been ſo long ſhut up here on all ſides, that we have had but very little news from any, indeed the moſt intereſting are among ourſelves: Three young Poutewatamis of St. Joſeph, one of which is a chief's ſon, came here in the month of February laſt, and killed and ſcalped two of the ſoldiers belonging to this garriſon, who were on command at the river Rouge, about a league below the fort; the ſame night Colonel Campbell ſent out Capt. Morris, and ſundry other officers, with about a hundred men, in queſt of the murderers; who, notwithſtanding their ranging the woods ſeveral days, returned without making any certain diſcoveries of the Enemy; a few days after we were informed of the murderers by ſome Indians belonging to the other nations; and trade was immediately prohibited with the Poutewatamis; in conſequence of which, ſeveral of their principal men came to this ſettlement, and by means of one of the inhabitants, deſired to be admitted to ſpeak with the commandant, who ſent them for anſwer, "That they ſhould neither have that, "nor the privilege of trade, before they delivered up the mur-"derers;" ſoon afterwards he was informed, that there was another party of them come and encamped near the river Rouge, and ſent out Lieut. Stewart, with about forty men, to endeavour to ſurpriſe them in the night; he took priſoners, two men and one woman, belonging to the Poutewatamis of this place (who are of the ſame nation, but a different tribe) but the band belonging to St. Joſeph, who were encamped a little higher, had an advanced centinel, who diſcovered the party, and alarmed them, by which means they made their eſcape; the priſoners ſay the principal murderers were with this party; 'tis ſaid there is a large party of them ſculking about here at preſent: Theſe raſcals ſerved us juſt ſuch a trick laſt year, and they will do ſo next, if they are not puniſhed for this; not only they, but all the different nations around being ſo tamely acquitted for the inhuman barbarities they committed in the year 1763, &c. talk now of killing an Engliſhman as they would of killing a Deer, and would take away the life of the former, with leſs deliberation than that of the latter; be aſſured that they are all much diſaffected, and talk very ill, not in hearing, but amongſt the French, who find themſelves ſufficiently intereſted, to communicate to us whatever diſcoveries they can make of their bad deſigns."

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.

Extract of a Letter from London, dated April 8, 1766.

"Before this arrives, the Repeal of the Stamp-Act will be known in America, and I hope we ſhall receive from your Province at leaſt no unfavourable Reports of your Behaviour on this Occaſion.

"The Adminiſtration, who have ſo ſteadily countenanced the Repeal, had the heavieſt Oppoſition in every Step that ever an Adminiſtration had to contend with; to ſupport them againſt which, there were at firſt only three or four, connected with North-America, that appeared; a Committee of Merchants were called, regular Meetings eſtabliſhed, and proper Perſons deputed to wait upon thoſe in Power, and attend Parliament; circular Letters were ſent to the trading Towns, to requeſt the Concurrence of thoſe who were affected by the Act and Regulations in Queſtion; and every Step taken that the Neceſſity of their Affairs, or Prudence could ſuggeſt.

"It may be ſufficient to ſay, that this Sub-Committee were indefatigable---They gave the Miniſtry ſuch clear and undiſguiſed

Accounts of the Situation of Affairs, that though at first they seemed at the beſt inclined to a Suſpenſion, yet they came totally into the Idea of a Repeal.

"The Parliament met ſtrongly prejudiced againſt you. I need not recount the Cauſes, which were worked up by inflammatory Writers to an extreme Degree. Judge what an arduous Taſk the Miniſtry had to engage in, what a ſlender Support they had Reaſon to expect from a few Individuals, who were in a great Meaſure unknown to them.

"But when the Evidence they had to produce was laid before the Lower Houſe; when the Conſequence of America to this Country began to be explained, the Effects of a Miſunderſtanding aſcertained by unqueſtionable Facts; when the Chicanery of thoſe who had promoted the late Meaſures appeared controvertible, Numbers daily altered their Opinion; and if ever a Parliament was ſwayed by Reaſon ſolely, this moſt certainly has the Credit of it; the preſent Adm---------n now in Power, moſtly unknown to the People, treated with Contumely by the Oppoſition, who valued themſelves upon their Influence and Superiority.

"But it ſeems to me that Divine Providence immediately blaſted their Pride, devoted them to the humiliating Situation they now occupy, and moſt graciouſly interpoſed, to ſave us from the Brink of Ruin, from inteſtine Quarrels, from the Contempt of all Europe, by giving that Firmneſs and Unanimity amongſt thoſe in Power, that has once more eſtabliſhed Harmony amongſt us.

"I think the preſent Adm----------n are likely to continue, much to their own Honour, and the Benefit of this Country; they are Men of Abilities, Application and Integrity, deſcended from, or connected with, the ancient firm Friends to the preſent Royal Family, moderate in Principle, and firm to Civil and Religious Liberty. As ſuch, they claim my cordial Wiſhes, and I hope that every Friend to ſuch Principles will contribute to ſupport them.

"A public Demonſtration of the Allegiance and Affection of the Americans to their Sovereign, will reflect ſome Credit to thoſe who have adviſed to ſuch prudent Meaſures, and this I think is your reaſonable Duty."

Extract of a Letter from London, to a Gentleman in Philadelphia, dated April 12, 1766.

"Our Friends here are in Pain, leſt the Condeſcenſion of Parliament, in repealing the Stamp-Act, will encourage the Americans to farther Exceſſes; and our Enemies, who have predicted it, hope to ſee their Prophecies fulfilled, that they may diſgrace the preſent Miniſtry; but I hope we ſhall behave prudently, and diſappoint them, which will eſtabliſh the Miniſtry, and thereby effectually ſecure the American Intereſt in Parliament. Indeed I wiſh this Miniſtry well, for their own Sakes, as well as ours, as they appear to me to be really very honeſt worthy Men, with the beſt Intentions; by no Means deficient in Abilities, very attentive to Buſineſs, and of Courſe daily improving in their Acquaintance with it.

"The Propoſal of free Ports in America, has been attended to, and one, for a Trial, will be eſtabliſhed at Dominica."

Since our laſt ſundry Letters, containing ſome Particulars of the late dreadful Fire at Barbados, have come to hand, from which we have extracted as follows, viz.

Bridgetown, May 16, 1766.

"By the time this comes to hand, I make no Doubt you have heard of the melancholy Deſtruction of this Town, therefore will firſt acquaint you, that our Houſe is ſafe, and all to the Windward of the Stepping Stones. After having the Pleaſure of acquainting you with this, I will (as well as the preſent Confuſion will allow me) give you a Narration of the Particulars. The Fire broke out at the Houſe above the Attorney General's, in High-Street, about 11 o'Clock at Night of the 14th of May, and in two Hours all Broad-Street was in Flames, and all is conſumed between Jew-Street, and right Weſtward, down to the Wharff, two Houſes excepted. It is impoſſible to give you any Account, at preſent, of the dreadful Conſequences of this mournful Event. The Fire ſpread itſelf with ſuch Rapidity, that few had Time to ſave their Wearing Apparel. Had I not made a ſtrong Puſh at the Cage, with the Crews of ſome Veſſels we have in the Bay, and blown up our Store, next the Attorney General's, our End of the Town muſt inevitably have gone. We have received a large Sum for the poor diſtreſſed People, who are now ſtarving in the Fields for Want of Support; and I have been all this Day buſied in diſtributing Proviſions to them, for their immediate Relief. We are forming an Aſſociation for the general Credit of the Iſland, in order to purchaſe up the Proviſions for the People, that they may not be impoſed upon. We mean to give a profitable and reaſonable Price for every Thing that arrives, but, at the ſame time, would put it out of the Power of unthinking, and unreaſonable People, to exact on the poor unhappy Sufferers."

In another Letter, of the 20th of May, from the ſame Gentleman, it is ſaid, "That there were 418 principal Houſes (excluſive of Stores and Hutts) conſumed, the annual Rents of which amounted, by the Church Books, to 15,442 l. and that the whole Loſs ſuſtained was eſtimated at Five Hundred Thouſand Pounds---That the Aſſembly and Council were then ſitting, and a Committee of both Houſes appointed, to conſider of the unhappy Situation, and to fall upon ſome proper and regular Manner of re-building the deſtroyed Town, as well as to aſſiſt the many poor diſtreſſed Families, who had neither a Hutt to put their Heads in, nor a Mouthful of Victuals to ſupply their preſent Neceſſities, except what was diſtributed to them."

May 17.

"It would melt the Heart of any One to ſee our Diſtreſs. Every Perſon in Broad-ſtreet, one Half of Jew-ſtreet, and Market, have ſuffered; one Man had 24 Houſes burnt. The Fire broke out in a Store belonging to Mr. Chaſe, occaſioned by the Careleſſneſs of the Clerk, who went to Sleep, and left a Candle burning near a Parcel of looſe Cotton, which took Fire, and communicated itſelf ſo ſoon over the Houſe, that a Liverpool Captain (Fearſon) was burnt to a Coal in the ſame, whilſt the Villain that occaſioned it eſcaped. I was induſtrious enough to roll out every Barrel of Flour and Bread in our Store; a great Part, as we took it down in a Hurry, both Heads came out, others Half ran out, and a vaſt Quantity I judge was ſtolen. As ſoon as I had cleared our Store, they blew it up, which prevented the Fire from increaſing to Windward----Vaſt Quantities of Rum and Sugar periſhed in the Flames; and the Sum is prodigious that is loſt, upon the whole, by almoſt every Man in Trade---Every Tavern and Houſe on the Wharff, down to Joice's, except Barclay's and Perry's, and even the Poſts for parbuckling Caſks into the Boats, were burnt; ſeveral Hogſheads of Rum took Fire in the Dock, and burnt while in the Sea; in ſhort, it is impoſſible for me to deſcribe the dreadful Calamity; I pray God I may never ſee ſuch another Night."

May 23.

"By an Eſtimate juſt made, there appears to be 440 Houſes burnt, the annual Rents of which amounted to 16,422 l."

May 24.

"I have only juſt Time, by this Conveyance, to inform you of a dreadful Fire which broke out in this Town the 14th Inſt. at Eleven o'Clock at Night, at a Store in High-ſtreet, by the Neglect of a young Man, who fell aſleep with a Candle burning, which ſet Fire to a Parcel of Cotton, and ſpread with ſuch Impetuoſity, that notwithſtanding many Houſes were blown up, and every thing done to ſtop its Progreſs (that the Irregularity of the Town would admit of) in about ſeven Hours Four Hundred and Forty Houſes were deſtroyed, ſituate in the richeſt Part of the Town, and large Quantities of Sugar, Rum, Cotton, Ginger, Proviſions, Dry Goods, Lumber, Houſhold Furniture, &c. loſt. I ſuppoſe the Amount of the whole Loſs ſuſtained by this terrible Fire, is not leſs than Three Hundred Thouſand Pounds Currency; many Families are ruined by it, and all Buſineſs at preſent in great Diſorder. Capt. David Fearſon, who kept the Store where the Fire began, could not find his Way out of the Houſe, and was deſtroyed in the Flames; it is ſuppoſed he did not awake till the Fire had reached his Chamber. His Cries were heard for ſome Time, but none could aſſiſt him. Handſome Contributions have been raiſed among ourſelves, for the immediate Relief of the poor unhappy Sufferers, and our Legiſlature are doing every thing they can to alleviate the Diſtreſſes of the Place, and to prevent the like Calamity for the future.---The Town will be rebuilt on a regular Plan, and Fire Companies properly eſtabliſhed."

There are many other Letters relating to the above Fire; but as the Contents of them are pretty much the ſame with thoſe inſerted, it is thought needleſs to repeat them.---One Letter ſays, the Ground the Buildings ſtood on that were burnt, by a Survey that had been taken of it, is 23 Acres, 3 Rods, and 16 Perches. In other Letters it is ſaid, that above 1000 Buildings, of one Sort or other, were deſtroyed---That the Diſtreſs of the Inhabitants could be better imagined than expreſſed, they, in the Heighth of their Calamity, being robbed and plundered by Negroes and others, and were obliged to keep Watch after the Fire was got under, for Fear of the Negroes riſing upon them, and deſtroying what remained of the Town, ſome of which were taken up; one Negroe, in particular, having been diſcovered putting an old Shoe, ſtuffed with Rags, &c. under the Eaves of a Houſe, in order to ſet it on Fire.----The Aſſembly, we hear, had paſſed a Law, regulating the Price of Proviſions for two Months."

Captain Marſhall, from Antigua, informs us, that it was ſaid Two Thirds of Fort Royal, in Martinico, was burnt by the late Fire there; and that a great many People had loſt their Lives in it.

Captain Robinſon from Liverpool, on the 27th of April, about 66 Leagues from the Lizard, ſpoke a Brig from North-Carolina for Plymouth, out 23 Days.---On the Firſt of May, in Lat. 48 : 2, Long. 15 : 4, ſpoke a Ship, Captain Watſon, from Jamaica for London; the ſame Day ſpoke a Snow from South-Carolina for Cowes, out 23 Days.---On the 12th, ſpoke Captain Stoddard, in Lat. 43 : 22, Long. 32 : 9, from London for Boſton.---And on the 10th Inſtant, about 40 Leagues to the Eaſtward of our Capes, ſpoke a Sloop for Antigua, alſo a new Ship, both from this Port.

Captain Rodgers, from Jamaica, about 18 Days ago, off the Bay of Hundy, ſpoke Captain Stevenſon, from the Bay for New-York, out 12 Days; he afterwards ſaw him through the Gulph, and parted with him the 8th Inſtant, in Lat. 28 : 48.

Captain Smith, from Nevis, on the 13th Inſtant, in Lat. 34, 50, Long. 71, 54, ſpoke a Schooner, Captain Mountain, from Antigua for Virginia, out 12 Days.

Arrived from this Port.

At Liſbon, Captains Patterſon, Robeſon, Connor and Brown.----At Barbados, Captains Adams and Barwick.----At Antigua, Captain Alliſon.----At Jamaica, Captains Burrows and Simpſon.

From Maryland, Captain Bingley, at Liſbon.

On Monday Evening we had a very heavy Thunder-guſt here, attended with ſharp Lightning, which ſtruck a Houſe in Second-ſtreet, in a very particular Manner. It appears to have firſt ſtruck a Chimney at the back Part of the Houſe, and thence proceeding along the Barge Board to the front Part, it entered another Chimney, and deſcended to the Garret, where a Curtain-rod ſtood upright againſt the Funnel; it broke through the Wall, and was conducted by the Rod to the Floor, and croſſed to the front Wall, where it deſcended to the ſecond Story, and darted in an oblique Direction to a Nail, Part of which it melted; it then went through the Floor in an angular Manner, and down the Wall to a Looking-glaſs in the firſt Story, melting the Quickſilver at the Bottom of the Glaſs, and breaking the ſame; it then darted to a Table under the Glaſs, making a Hole through it, and left ſeveral evident Marks of burning as it paſſed through the Floor to the Front Door, which it ſhivered in its Paſſage, and then proceeded into the Cellar, where there were no further Marks of it to be ſeen.---It is remarkable, that in its Paſſage, it took various Directions, according as any Metal was near to conduct it.---There were ſeveral Perſons in the Houſe at the Time, but happily none of them received any Hurt.

The SPEECH of his EXCELLENCY WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq; Captain General, Governor, and Commander in Chief, in and over His Majesty's Province of New-Jersey, Chancellor and Vice Admiral in the same, &c.

Gentlemen of the COUNCIL, and Gentlemen of the GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

ALTHOUGH I was desirous to have met you sooner, yet I postponed calling you together, till I was enabled to acquaint you with the Determinations of his Majesty, and the British Parliament, on the Act for granting certain Stamp Duties in America. This Delay I imagined, though it made the Session somewhat later in the Season than usual, would be more agreeable to you, than to be put to the Inconvenience of another Meeting on that particular Account.

It gives me great Satisfaction, that I have it now in my Power to communicate to you an Act for the Repeal of that Statute, and to present you with my sincere Congratulations on the happy Termination of this most important Affair.

You will see by the Right Honourable Mr. Secretary Conway's Letter, that such is the kind and indulgent Disposition prevailing both in his Majesty and his Parliament, that they are inclined not only to indemnify those Persons who have incurred the Penalties of the late Stamp Act, but to give the Trade and Interests of America every Relief which the true State of our Circumstances may demand or admit.

I have likewise received a Copy of an Act for the better securing the Dependency of the Colonies on the Mother Country. This I shall order to be laid before you, together with sundry Resolutions of the Honourable House of Commons, expressing their Sentiments of those late unwarrantable Transactions, which, unhappily, were too prevalent throughout the Colonies of America.

It must, however, be mentioned, to the Credit of New-Jersey, that no Act of Outrage or Violence, no Hurt to Person or Property, has been committed by the Inhabitants of this Province. The good Effects which have resulted from such Conduct, will, no Doubt, afford them great Pleasure in the Reflection: And they may be assured that I have, from time to time, done them the Justice to make their prudent Behaviour, in this Respect, known to his Majesty's Ministers.

But I should think myself greatly wanting, was I not to take this Opportunity of acknowledging the Services rendered the Crown and this Province, by Captain Hawker, Commander of his Majesty's Ship Sardine, who, upon my Request, with great Politeness and Readiness, undertook the Care and Protection of the Stamped Paper destined for New-Jersey. Nor should I pass over, without Commendation, the good Conduct of you, Gentlemen of the Council and General Assembly, who, together with the Chief Justice, and the other Justices of the Supreme Court, many of the Justices of the Inferior Courts, and the most eminent of the Gentlemen of the Law, have likewise, in your and their respective Stations, been greatly instrumental in promoting and preserving the Peace and Order of the Province.

Happily, the Storm which, for some Time past, raged so violently, as to threaten the future Welfare of Great-Britain and her Colonies, is at length subsided. The Tenderness, Lenity and Condescension----the Wisdom, Justice and Equity, which his Majesty and the Parliament have manifested on this signal Occasion, cannot but make deep Impressions upon the Mind of every loyal American Subject, and excite the most lively Returns of Duty and Gratitude.

It is needless, Gentlemen, I am convinced, for me to urge any Arguments to give you a just Sense of your particular Duty at this great Crisis; more especially as you will find it so fully and ably pointed out, in the very excellent Letter from his Majesty's Secretary of State.

All I shall add, therefore, is my hearty Wishes, that there may be henceforth an indissoluble Union of the Hearts of all the King's Subjects in the Bonds of mutual Affection, so that there may remain no other Contention among them, but who shall exceed the other in contributing to advance the general Interest, Happiness and Glory, of the British Empire.

WILLIAM FRANKLIN.

Council Chamber, June 12, 1766.

LONDON, April 29.

Extract of a Letter from Calcutta, dated October 1, 1765.

SOON after the Meeting of the select Committee, they thought it necessary to endeavour to restore a firm and lasting Tranquility, as soon as possible, to those distracted Countries, and thereby revive the long drooping Spirit of Trade, and secure to the poor Native his Life and Property, by putting the Government under such Regulations as to prevent all future Wars, Rebellions, and Oppressions, as far as human Prudence could prevent and bind them. The Committee accordingly deputed, and gave full Powers to Lord Clive and General Carnac, to go up the Country, and establish a Peace with the King or Great Mogul, who was then with our Army in Suja Dowla's Dominions, near Benares. The Peace that was happily concluded between the King, Suja Dowla (his Grand Vizir) and the English East-India Company, among many other Circumstances, contains the following, viz. To restore to Suja Dowla all his Dominions, on the Terms of his paying the King a clear Royal Revenue of One Million, Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Pounds Sterling, annually, and to allow the English East-India Company an uninterrupted Trade through them, Duty free. As the Kingdom of Bengal, and its annexed Provinces, used to pay to the Throne, by Way of Royal Revenues, about the same Sum with the above Stipulation made to the King, though the several Deductions for the Maintainance of Officers, &c. on that Account, reduced that Sum considerably; and as the Nabobs of Bengal have thrown off their Allegiance to the Throne, and paid no Royal Rents since the Invasion of the famous Nadir Shah, or Kouli Khan, into this Empire, in the Years 1738 and 1739, who took the Capital of Delhi, and the great Mogul Prisoner, since then neither Bengal, nor any of the more distant Provinces, have paid any Revenues to the Throne; the King, therefore, willing to recover the Right of these from Bengal, agreed with Lord Clive to invest the English East-India Company with full Power, Right, and Authority, to collect the ancient Royal Rent of these Countries for themselves, on Condition of their duly paying to him therefrom, the clear Sum of Three Hundred and Twenty Thousand Pounds Sterling annually; the Overplus arising from those Countries to be the Company's Property, which will amount to about twice as much more, clear of all Charges,

"To which is to be added, that the King has made the Company his Royal Tenants, or perpetual Landholders, of the three Provinces of Bengal, Bahar and Orixa, which was the Rank and Privilege invested heretofore in the Nabobs of Bengal, but not to exclude the Nabob entirely from the Possession of his Ancestors, the East-India Company have engaged to pay him annually 700,000 l. Sterling, out of these Revenues, for the Support of his Dignity, and some Troops; so that now, both the Power and Vitals of this Government being invested in the Hands of the Company only, neither the present, nor any future Nabob of these Provinces, can, if they would, interrupt, or be oppressive to the established Government; for the best of them, when they have it in their Power, are not to be trusted; and the Company must be at the Expence of keeping a good Standing Army here, both to awe our Neighbours into Peace and Quietness, and to repel any foreign Power, whether Europeans or others, whose Jealousy or Avarice our great Acquisitions may excite to invade us.

"Besides these extraordinary Grants from the King, Lord Clive has also engaged him to make over to the Company, Lands on the Coast of Coromandel, about Massulapatnam, and other Places, where the French had some Years ago very opulent Possessions, to be now under the Presidency of Madras, of Value equal to what his Lordship has obtained for the Company in Bengal; the whole amounting to Three Millions of Pounds Sterling annually: Glorious Acquisitions surely! For, as to the Grants heretofore obtained by Mr. --------, which his Supporters in Europe made such prodigious Boasts of, they did not exceed 600,000 l. annually, more than which was yearly eat up by our very great Military Expence in the War; so that in Reality the Company were not a Shilling Gainers at the Year's End; not to consider that those Lands were the Purchase of the Treaty made with Cossim Aly Cawn in 1760, to supplant him in the Nabobship, which subsequently brought the Company's Affairs, in these Parts, to the very Brink of Ruin, by the furious War that succeeded, and the bloody Massacre of too many of our brave Countrymen.

"Our present opulent Acquisitions will not only pay off all the necessary Charges of Government, both Civil and Military, at the three Presidencies of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, but also furnish Money sufficient to provide the annual Investments of the different Indian Goods, that may be wanted for all the Ships that the Company yearly send to this Part of the World, as well as sufficient to supply the Exigencies of the Company to the China Markets, instead of their being necessitated to send out, as heretofore, large Sums of Money, or Bullion, Part for India, but the greater Part to purchase the Commodities of that ingenious and politic People; so that now the Article of the Exportation of so much ready Specie, which has been so grating to the Nation, will be hereby entirely removed; and in lieu of it, nothing but the Manufactures of our own Country need be shipped off for the East-Indies, for which the Company will receive their usual full Cargoes of all the rich Indian and China Commodities in Return."

MADRID, March 27.

AS the Spaniſh Dreſs made it difficult to diſtinguiſh one Perſon from another; and as the Authors of many Diſorders lately committed here, eſpecially in the Night, thereby eſcaped Diſcovery; the King, to prevent theſe Abuſes, iſſued an Ordinance, forbidding the Uſe of flapped Hats and long Cloaks, &c. and ordered 5000 Lamps to be fixed up for lighting the City. The Perſons charged by the Miniſtry with the Execution of this Ordinance, having acted with an ill-judged Rigour, the Populace roſe againſt them. On the 23d, about four in the Afternoon, a Troop of Mutineers appeared in the Streets with flapped Hats and long Cloaks; and after having forced the Guard, which attempted to ſtop them, they attacked the Houſe of the Preſident of the Council, and that of the Marquis de Squillace, Miniſter of Finances: They broke all the Lamps, and obliged every Perſon they met with, either on Foot or in Carriages, to let down the Brims of their Hats. Towards nine in the Evening ſome Patroles of Horſe and Foot were detached from the Palace, who diſperſed the Mutineers; and at Midnight Tranquility was entirely re-eſtabliſhed in all the Quarters of the City; but the next Day, at ſeven in the Morning, the People aſſembled again, and upwards of Thirty Thouſand of them, both Men and Women, marched towards the Palace, crying, Long live the King! The Sieur O'Reilly, Field-Marſhal, to whom the King had given the Command of all the Troops that were at Madrid, propoſed to his Majeſty the diſperſing of this ſeditious Mob, by employing againſt them the Means of Force and Rigour; but his Majeſty expreſſed the greateſt Repugnance to ſhedding the Blood of his Subjects; ſome Muſkets were, however, fired, which killed ſix or ſeven Perſons. The King thought proper at laſt to ſhew himſelf, about five in the Evening, in the great Balcony, in the Middle of the Palace, whither the Mutineers ran in Shoals, ſtill crying, Long live the King! They demanded, 1ſt, the Repal of the Edict for altering their Dreſs; 2dly, the leſſening of the Price of Bread and Oil; and 3dly, the Suppreſſion of the Company which had undertaken to furniſh Madrid with Proviſions. His Majeſty deigned to grant what they demanded, and they retired with the moſt lively Demonſtrations of Joy and Submiſſion. All being thus pacified, the King thought proper to ſet out the 25th in the Morning for Aranjuez. As ſoon as the People heard of this, they mutinied again, under Pretence that their Fidelity was ſuſpected, and demanded that the King ſhould return to his Capital. His Majeſty ſent Anſwer that he doubted not the Fidelity of his Subjects; but that he would not return to Madrid till Order and Tranquility were perfectly re-eſtabliſhed. This Anſwer of the King having been communicated to the People the 26th in the Morning, by the Secretary of the Council of Caſtile, all the Mutineers ſeparated immediately, after delivering up the Arms which they had ſeized, and from that Moment all has been quiet.

The City of Toledo has ſent Deputies to the King, to offer him the Lives and Fortunes of all its Inhabitants, and to preſent him with the Sum of 300,000 Reals. The Chapter of the Cathedral of the ſame City has alſo ſent a Deputation to his Majeſty, and preſented to him 360,000 Reals. It appears that all the other Cities of the Kingdom intend to follow the Example: Several have already nominated Deputies for this Purpoſe; and the whole Nation is eager to give the King the moſt ſtriking Teſtimonies of Zeal, Love, and Reſpect.

On the ſecond inſtant, Prince Albert of Saxony repaired to the Court at Vienna, attended by a brilliant Retinue, to demand publickly the Arch-Dutcheſs Mary Chriſtiana in Marriage. LONDON, May 3.

IT is thought the late Commotions in Spain will be attended with conſiderable Advantages to Great-Britain. That Affair manifeſtly proves that the Bourbon Family Compact is by no Means agreeable to the Senſe and Inclinations of the native Spaniards; that they diſapprove of ſuch a cloſe Connection with France, and conſequently we, as well as other Nations, may look upon that Compact in a leſs formidable Light. It ſhews, that the native Spaniards have an Antipathy to the French Nation, their Modes and Faſhions; and alſo that they have an Affection for the Engliſh, and deſire to live in Friendſhip with them. As it demonſtrates, that the People of Spain do not like to be led by the Noſe by France, and to be drawn by her into a Quarrel with England, ſo it may very likely tend to prolong the Peace. His Catholic Majeſty's Army of native Spaniards refuſing to fire upon their Fellow Subjects, affords a very inſtructive Leſſon to all ambitious and arbitrary Princes, as it ſhews them, that their native Soldiery will not be concerned in carrying on violent Meaſures, and deſtroying the Rights, Liberties and Lives of their Fellow-Subjects; and the Walloon Guards firing upon the Spaniards, is a ſtriking Proof, which the People of every Country ſhould take eſpecial Notice of, how dangerous it is to ſuffer their Princes to keep foreign Troops in the Nation. It likewiſe affords a very uſeful Leſſon to all Miniſters and Favourites, as it ſhews them, that no Favour of their Prince can be ſufficient to protect them againſt the Reſentment of an injured and enraged People.

It is aſſured, that a great Orator has outdone his former Outdoings, by his very ſpirited and reſiſtleſs Eloquence lately in Oppoſition to General Warrants.

The Right Hon. Mr. Pitt is gone to Bath.

It is ſaid to be certain, that the Duke of Grafton will ſhortly reſign, and that the Earl of Egmont is believed to be fixed upon to ſucceed him.

It is ſtrongly reported that the Right Hon. Mr. Grenville will ſhortly be created a Peer of Great-Britain, and alſo be gratified with a moſt honourable and lucrative Sinecure.

BRIDGETOWN (Barbados) May 24.

The Printers flatters themſelves they need make no other Apology for not publiſhing a Paper on Saturday the 17th Inſtant, than giving the following melancholy Account of the dreadful Conflagration which happened on Wedneſday the 14th: It began at the Houſe of Mr. William Chaſe, in High-ſtreet, about half after Eleven o'Clock at Night, by what Means we cannot yet learn: The Flames were next communicated to the Houſe of Jonathan Blenman, Eſq; Attorney-General; and the Wind blowing very freſh from the N. E. the Fire took its Courſe (with the greateſt Rapidity almoſt ever known) through Phillips's Alley into Broad-ſtreet, Swan-ſtreet, and the Wharff; and in the Courſe of about four Hours laid waſte every Dwelling-Houſe and Store as far as the Old Church-Yard. The Wind then ſhifting to the Southward, the Flames returned to the Back-ſtreets and Alleys at the lower End of Broad-ſtreet, carrying every Thing before it till about Nine o'Clock on Thurſday Morning, when it was providentially got the better of. The Confuſion and Diſtreſs of the Inhabitants on this Occaſion may be better conceived than deſcribed, many loſing not only their Habitations, but the major Part of their Furniture and Goods, by not having ſufficient Time to remove, or by being obliged to remove them two or three Times. We hear of no Perſon being burnt, but Captain David Frearſon, Commander of the Ship John and Mary, from Liverpool, who lodged in the Houſe where it began. The Number of principal Houſes conſumed, including the Cuſtom-Houſe, and other public Offices, is about 440, the annual Rents of which were 16,421l, beſides a great Number of Stores and Sheds,

Many principal Stores at the Eaſt End of the Town, well filled with Proviſions, have, by God's great Goodneſs, eſcaped the Fire; and no Day has paſſed ſince, without the Arrival of one or more Proviſion Veſſels, which have entirely relieved us from the dreadful Apprehenſions of immediate Want.

And, as it muſt afford general Satisfaction to each Reader to be informed of the Benevolence and Charity of the Public, ſeveral Contributions have been made, and large Benefactions received, for the preſent Relief of the poor diſtreſſed Sufferers; and our legiſlative Bodies are daily ſitting, and taking into Conſideration every Expedient for the Rebuilding of the Town, and our future Safety.

His Excellency, who had fixed the Time of his Departure to the 20th of this Month, has good-naturedly poſtponed it until Tueſday the 27th; and we flatter ourſelves with the Hopes that he will make ſuch a Repreſentation of the dreadful Calamity to our Royal Sovereign, as will induce his Majeſty to extend his gracious Bounty to the Relief of his diſtreſſed Colony.

On Thurſday laſt the Rev. Mr. Thomas Wharton and William-Thorpe Holder, Eſq; paid into the Committee for receiving Donations, the Sum of 302 l. collected by them in the Pariſh of St. Philip, for the Relief of the Inhabitants who have ſuffered by the Fire.

Reſolutions of the Committee of Aſſembly, on Tueſday, the 20th of May, 1766.

Reſolved, It is the Opinion of the Committee, That the Legiſlature apply to the King for his Bounty, and that the Agent be directed, by the Committee of Correſpondence, to ſet on Foot Subſcriptions in Great-Britain for the Relief of the Sufferers.

Reſolved, It is the Opinion of the Committee, That a proper Method ſhall be taken to collect the Names of all ſuch Perſons who have ſuffered by the Fire, to know who are intitled to the public Charity.

Reſolved, It is the Opinion of the Committee, When it ſhall be determined on what Plan the Town ſhall be rebuilt, no other Materials ſhall be uſed but Brick and Stone for Walls, and Copper Tiles, and Slate, or Sawed Stone, for Covering.

Reſolved, It is the Opinion of the Committee, a Bill be prepared to ſettle the Prices of Proviſions, and to declare it Exortion in any Perſon to ſell at a higher Rate than Proviſions were ſold the Day before the Fire.

Captain M'Collin, who arrived here laſt Sunday from St. Lucia, informs us, that a Captain of a French Schooner, who arrived there on Tueſday the 27th Inſtant, from St. Pierre's in Martinico, reported, That as he paſſed the Bay of Fort Royal, in the ſaid Iſland, he ſaw the Town all in Flames. This he affirmed as a Fact, and ſays it happened on Monday the 19th Inſtant.

CHARLES-TOWN (South-Carolina) June 13.

On Wedneſday Evening laſt his Excellency the Rt. Hon. Lord CHARLES-GREVILLE MONTAGU, Governor in Chief, &c. &c. of this Province, his Lady and Family, arrived here in the Ship Fonthill, Matthias Kitching, Maſter, from England. His Excellency was immediately ſaluted by a diſcharge of the Cannon in the Forts and Baſtions. Thomas Savage. At the State-Houſe his Excellency was received by another Deputation of his Majeſty's Council, and being conducted into the Council-Chamber, where his Honour the Lieut. Governor received him, his Majeſty's Commiſſion appointing his Lordſhip Captain General, &c. was read, and his Excellency, preceded by the Light-Infantry Company, attended by his Honour the Lieut. Governor, &c. walked to Granville's Baſtion, where the Artillery Company, commanded by Capt. Chriſtopher Gadſden, was poſted; his Majeſty's Commiſſion was again read and publiſhed, after which was a general Diſcharge of the Cannon, anſwered by Vollies of Small-arms. His Excellency returned to the State-Houſe, preceded as before by the Light Infantry Company, of whom his Lordſhip expreſſed his Approbation in very genteel Terms, and alſo of the Artillery Company.

On Sunday laſt his Honour the Lieut. Governor gave his Aſſent to "An Ordinance to prohibit the Exportation of Rice; and for "ſupplying the Inhabitants of this Province, who are in want "thereof, at the Price, and for the Time, therein limited." By which all Perſons are prohibited to export Rice from this Province before the firſt Day of September next, except for neceſſary Proviſions for the People on board any Ship or Veſſel; or to ſell Rice before that Time at a greater Price than Three Pounds Currency the Hundred Pounds Weight. The Commiſſioners appointed by the Ordinance ſhall and may receive, from all Perſons who ſhall offer the ſame, any Quantity of good Rice, to be paid for by the Publick Treaſurer, which they are authoriſed to retail at the firſt Coſt and Charges. The Governor or Commander in Chief, if the General Aſſembly be not ſitting, is impowered, with the Advice of his Majeſty's Council, to iſſue his Proclamation for taking off the Prohibition, when it ſhall appear that there are Proviſions in the Province excluſive of Rice, or a Quantity of Rice in the Hands of the Commiſſioners, ſufficient for the Conſumption of the Inhabitants till the next Crop can be made.

NEW-YORK, June 19.

On Sunday laſt arrived a Tranſport from Penſacola, with Troops.----They bring Advice, that the Spaniſh Governor (accompanied with a Prieſt) was arrived at New-Orleans, in order to take Poſſeſſion of that Place----The Spaniſh Soldiers were not arrived, but ſoon expected, till when, the French Garriſon were to remain and do Duty.----It was propoſed to ſeveral of them to inliſt in the Spaniſh Service, but they generally refuſed with Diſdain. Veſſels were provided for ſuch of the Inhabitants as choſe to embark for France, which when they were preparing to do, the Prieſt urged their complying with the Spaniſh Cuſtoms, of confeſſing before their Departure: The French inſiſted on their Right of Choice, either to confeſs or not, according to the Cuſtom of France; on which an Uproar and great Confuſion enſued.----But as they were not ſuffered to depart without Confeſſion, at length the greateſt Part complied rather than be detained; but were highly exaſperated at the Compulſion, declaring they would rather live under the Turkiſh than the Spaniſh Government.

The Freemen and Freeholders of the City of New-York, are requeſted to meet at the Houſe of Mr. Richard Howard, To-Morrow in the Afternoon, at five o'Clock, in order to chooſe a Committee to inſtruct their Members to move in the Houſe of Aſſembly, that Proviſion be made for erecting a Statue to Mr. PITT, in Teſtimony of the grateful Senſe they entertain of his Services to the American Colonies; and to write Letters of Thanks to all thoſe illuſtrious Perſonages who have ſo zealouſly exerted themſelves in both Houſes of Parliament, in obtaining the Repeal of the Stamp Act.

June 23. Yeſterſtay Capt. Tudor arrived here from St. Kitts, where had been made equal Rejoicings on the Repeal of the Stamp Act to any yet ſhewn; ſo likewiſe in moſt of the Iſlands. JOHN NIXON, and Co.

THE Subſcriber having been appointed Profeſſor of the Frenchand Spaniſh Languages in the College of this City, begs Leave to inform the Public, that he purpoſes to teach ſuch young Ladies and Gentlemen, who are deſirous of being taught thoſe polite and uſeful Languages, not only to read them with Propriety, but to write them grammatically, and ſpeak them with the utmoſt Purity and Elegance, as his long Reſidence amongſt thoſe Nations has procured him a perfect and critical Knowledge of their Pronounciation, which is ſo neceſſary to ſuch Perſons as are deſirous of converſing in thoſe Languages with Facility and Pleaſure. For this Purpoſe he has provided a convenient Room, at the Lodge Houſe, in Lodge-Alley, where he has opened a School to teach young Ladies in the Morning, and young Gentlemen in the Afternoon. Further Particulars may be known of him, by enquiring at the Widow Rice's, in Arch-ſtreet, between Front and Second-ſtreets, or at ſaid School.

To ſuch Gentlemen, who are deſirous of being acquainted with the Nature of the Trade, and the Methods of carrying it on by the Engliſh from this Continent, with the French and Spaniards in their Settlements, in the Weſt-Indies, and Gulph of Mexico, he ſhall give ſome very neceſſary practical Lectures, chiefly drawn from his own Obſervations and Experience.

PAUL FOOKS.

N. B. It is preſumed that any Eulogium upon the Utility, and genteel Acquirement of the French and Spaniſh Languages, in ſo polite and commercial a City as Philadelphia, already diſtinguiſhed for their Taſte and Knowledge of the Belles Lettres, would be altogether ſuperfluous in an Advertiſement. Nevertheleſs, as there are many Perſons who may be deſirous of knowing the particular Advantages of underſtanding thoſe Languages in America, with a View to Trade, &c. The Subſcriber purpoſes ſhortly to ſubmit ſome general Obſervations on theſe to the Public in this Paper.

WILLIAM MURRAY,

HAVING for ſeveral Years ſtudied the Laws of South and North Britain, and, ſince he has been in America, has alſo proſecuted his Studies under ſeveral Attornies, eminent in their Profeſſion, in different Provinces on this Continent; intends to practiſe the CONVEYANCING BRANCH (only) of an Attorney's Buſineſs, which he hopes, from his long Study, and ſome Practice he has had, he will tranſact to the Satisfaction of his Employers. Such as pleaſe to favour him with their Buſineſs, by applying to him at his Houſe, on the Eaſt Side of Second-ſtreet, between Spruce and Union-ſtreets, oppoſite to Mr. Charles Stedman's, may depend on having it tranſacted with Care, Accuracy and Diſpatch; and, with his Employers Approbation, he will carefully peruſe their Titles, and purſue the proper Steps to remedy any Defects that may appear in them; a Circumſtance not always properly attended to in this Province, owing frequently to a falſe Security in the Poſſeſſors, which often proves of fatal Tendency to the Intereſt of their Iſſue, &c.

He has to diſpoſe of, two Lots in the Town of Carliſle, in Cumberland County, with ſome Materials for building on one of them; and one Lot in York Town, in York County, with a ſmall Log Houſe erected thereon. Alſo 200 Acres of Land, warranted, and ſurveyed, in Sheerman's Valley, a few Acres of which cleared, but if more agreeable to the Purchaſer, he will patent the Land.

The Purchaſer of any Part of the Premiſes, ſhall have reaſonable Time given him for the Payment, as the Subſcriber's principal Motive for ſelling, is his having declined to reſide in that Part of the Province, near which the Premiſes are ſituated.

Tbc. WILLIAM MURRAY.

N. B. Wanted, Three or Four Hundred Pounds, upon unexceptionable Land Security; whoever chuſes to lend the Money, upon Application to the ſaid Murray, may ſee the Title Deeds of the Land. Nine Hundred Pounds have been offered for the Premiſes, which are clear of all Incumbrances.

Burlington, June 19, 1766.
